Councilmen Elected In Four Cities

Voters in four northern San Mateo County cities yesterday balloted in municipal elections featuring a total of 41 candidates for 11 city council seats.

The vacancies included three each in Daly City, San Bruno and Pacifica and two in South San Francisco with incumbents seeking re-election in all four contests.

In Pacifica was the only "yes" or "no" proposition, one that involved whether or not the community wanted the city to contract for a local bus service.

It was approved.

Here's how the candidates placed, in order of their finish in each of the four communities:

TELEVISION PROBE

Ahern Claims Sets 'Loaned' To Him, Other SSF Officials

By FRANK LAPIERRE
and BOB PETERSON

The San Mateo County District Attorney's office has been quietly conducting an investigation centering around the "lending" of several color television sets to South San Francisco city officials.

According to excerpts from a transcript of testimony brought out during the current KRON-TV license renewal hearings in San Francisco recently, the first set was delivered to then-mayor Patrick Ahern in December 1967—several months after the city entered into an exclusive franchise with Western Cable TV for services.

Purportedly the sets were to be used for "monitoring" cable reception both before and after a cable system was installed city-wide.

The San Mateo County District Attorney's office would not offer comment on the matter, other than to point out their office does investigate and will disseminate information to other investigative agencies when asked to do so.

Councilman Ahern said the set had been accepted in good faith, with the understanding it was strictly on loan. After several months the cable TV company offered to sell the set to Ahern and be paid some $270 for it, the councilman explained.

Both Ahern and Councilman Frank Bertucell, another recipient of a set from the TV company, speculated provisions for the monitoring receivers for certain officials is provided for in the cable TV agreement adopted by the city.

City Atty. John Noonan said that the agreement was that the firm had to "insure" a good clear signal and "monitoring would be one of the ways of doing this."

Section 17, Operational Standards, of the agreement says

Jobs For Youth

Officials Predict Long, Tough Summer Ahead

By FRANK LaPIERRE

It's going to be a long, tough summer for youths looking for vacation jobs!

The "tight money" situation, coupled with the bumper crop of youths available for summer work, is blamed for this dreary outlook by Jefferson Union High School Youth Work-Education Co-ordinator Mike Orlich.

Speaking to what he described as a "very disappointing turnout" at a breakfast meeting in Daly City last week, Orlich predicted many youths would be turned away by local businesses.

Only six representatives from Daly City businesses attended the early morning meeting.

Reverend Thomas McElligott of Our Lady of Perpetual Help Church kicked off the meeting by pointing out that the summer work program "is not aimed at any one particular group" of youths.

The program, however, is primarily concerned with providing jobs for youths in low income families, he explained.

This year a proposed budget of some $37,260 has been worked out.

Father McElligott said this budget would provide for employment of 100 students under a two-pronged tutorial program aimed at bi-lingual classes (similar to last year's Latin Heritage program) and English-language instruction for children requiring this sort of teaching.

The students hired under this program are paid $1.40 per hour (70 students) with the remaining 30 students in varying pay brackets depending on their duties.

The Economic Opportunity Commission (EOC) has provided some $9,000 towards the necessary funding of this portion of the summer work program and the rest must come from the local community through contributions, Father McElligott said.

The "key" to the success of the program is in the hands of local businessmen, Dan Davis of J. C. Penny Company, said.

Davis said the object was "to get to the people who have the key . . . those that can unlock job opportunities."

He recalled the program's initial meeting last year and the fact that although many persons

S.F. Jail

No Substantial Changes Noted

There have been no substantial changes at San Francisco's jail in San Bruno since that city's Committee on crime issued its slashing 24-point condemnation of the facility last August, an official of the Committee said Monday.

Irving Reichert, executive director of the crime committee which investigated the city's courts and jails last year, appeared with San Mateo County supervisor Bob St. Clair at a meeting of the Board of Supervisors' fire, safety and police committee where he charged little has been done to implement the report centering around the jail.

Supervisor St. Clair pointed out "your own committee on crime issued a 24-point report on your jail last August, but there has been little done to implement it."

Accompanying St. Clair to the committee meeting was Pacifica Mayor Nick Gust and San Bruno City Councilman George R. Corey.

It was in Pacifica where an elderly couple was held captive by two escapees from the San Bruno jail last year. One of the victims was beaten to death.

Since that time San Mateo County officials have entered the battle to have improvements made in security at the jail.

Reading from the crime committees' report, St. Clair cited serious overcrowding, insufficient staff (guards) and "incompetent administration" were in evidence at the jail.

In a move to improve security, sheriff Matthew Carberry said the number of inmates had been reduced to 597, new steel cross bars had been put over the windows on all prison tiers, and Mayor Alioto has been asked for money to hire nine additional guards.

Recently, San Mateo County threatened to file a nusiance suit against the jail unless action was taken to improve security.

Carberry's answers, while appearing to satisfy St. Clair, failed to appease Reichert.

Reichert told the committee the city would be "throwing money away" if they hired "more bodies without properly training them."

He said changes in training, controls at the jail and improved administration had to be made first.

Hearing On Broadmoor

LAFCO Is Urged To Reject Request For Incorporation

Chances appeared slim today that residents of Broadmoor, a pocket subdivision of some 6,200 residents almost completely surrounded by Daly City, will be allowed to vote on incorporation as San Mateo County's 19th city.

Executive Officer B. Sherman Coffman, in a report prepared for a Local Agency Formation Commission (LAFCC) hearing today "strongly" urges that the incorporation proposal be turned down.

Coffman called incorporation of Broadmoor a "highly illogical move" and declared, "We believe that the proponents have seriously underestimated the cost of providing municipal services to their community."

Coffman noted that figures submitted by the Broadmoor Property Owners Association show estimated annual revenues of $294,500, and expenditures of $357,490, leaving a balance of $62,990 to be raised from property taxes, which he called "totally unrealistic." The official, on his own analysis, estimated revenues at $281,600, necessary expenditures at $803,600, and the amount to be raised by taxes $522,000.

The proponents' estimated tax rate is 51 cents for each $100 of assessed valuation; Coffman's is $4.47.

The report notes that the proponents are not suggesting any improvements in services if incorporation is achieved.

"Anyone experienced in local government knows that the very existence of a local governing body invites demand for higher level of service."

Coffman concluded with a suggestion that annexation of Broadmoor to Daly City would be a better move:

"This community is almost completely surrounded by a well-managed general purpose government which can provide almost all of the services required for the residents. To create another municipal body in the very midst of such a city would appear to be a highly illogical move."

"THOSE WERE THE DAYS!" — An excitingly different fashion show luncheon is being planned for the women of St. Andrew's Community of Daly City. Co-chairladies Mrs. Caesar Sabbatani and Mrs. Richard Russell (seated) have obtained the services of Fashion Collectors Ltd. of Sausalito, a professional group who model styles from the years 1860-1918. Viewed will be gowns from the Civil War Period, the Gay Ninety Era, and up through the turn of the century. The costumes run the gamut from opera gowns to night gowns and are authentic and original down to the last whalebone and button. An interesting and humorous commentary points out their historic significance, and props and music serve to complete the effect. This nostalgic and delightful glimse into the past will take place on May 23 at the Olympic Club, Lakeside. Mrs. Herman Erler is in charge of reservations.

'Gun' Woman Captures Man

Those people who think the average citizen doesn't care to get involved haven't met Mrs. Mary Knoff, of 120 Yuba Court, San Bruno.

Police in that city are glad she, and her shotgun, happened to be around at about 10 a.m. Monday. If not, a man on a stolen motorcycle might have gone free.

Instead, Gregory Charles Park, 18, of 3794 Cork Place, South San Francisco, was arrested and booked on charges of possession of stolen property and avoiding arrest.

The incident unravels like this. A police traffic unit on Sheryl Drive in the Pacific Heights section of the city noticed a motorcycle go by. The bike had no license plate. The officer gave pursuit with red light and siren.

However, the bike rider wasn't about to stop. He turned west on College Drive and entered the Skyline College Campus. The motorcycle then left the roadway and went up the side of a mountain.

The car-bound officer was stymied. He called for assistance. Help came and the bike rider was spotted again, in the vicinity of Moreland and Riverside Drives. The cyclist again left the road, heading up a trail near Skyline Boulevard.

Police gave pursuit on foot. They spotted the suspect sitting on the bike in a wooded area. When the suspect saw the police he got up and ran further into the area, leaving the motorcycle.

A short while later, another unit coming around by the home of Mrs. Knoff, in the Portola Highlands section of the city, saw what appeared to be a lady holding a man at bay with a shotgun.

It was. The man was the same they had been pursuing.

Police learned that their helper had been witnessing the chase and when she saw the suspect come out of the woods she decided to detain him. The police said they are glad the spunky 24-year-old housewife did.

Television Set 'Loaned' Him, Ahern Claims

nothing specific about provisions for the monitoring receivers.

"A councilman has a right to check performance standards just like they inspect anything else," said Noonan. "How do they do this (with cable television). They monitor. Afterward, (the councilmen) returned (the set) or bought it."

According to Ahern, the cable television representatives explained the purpose of having the sets was to enable the city official to observe first-hand the performance of the system.

Ed Allen, president of Western Cable Television, said he was not free to comment on whether it was the policy of his firm to "loan" sets for the purpose of monitoring to all the cities in which they install a cable system.

He said he had to withhold all comment on the subject on the request of the district attorney "until this thing is resolved."

"I was given a choice several months ago — to let them have the set back or buy it at cost. I decided to buy it," Ahern said.

Mayor Bertucelli, in a separate interview, said much the same thing.

The sets were not given in consideration for any "favors" and he turned his set back to the company less than a month after it was installed.

"I have my own," he said.

Bertucelli's set was installed a week before the cable system went into operation.

"They (Western Cable) wanted to sell (the sets) to us at market price," Bertucelli said. "After comparing their set with my own I told them they could have their set back."

Councilman Andrew Rocca, also a recipient of a "monitor" set, said he was "the one leading the field."

Rocca pointed out that the firm said cable would work good, "but how did we know?

"I asked them to put in a set so we could try it. They did, and at first it didn't work, then later they changed things around and it worked."

Rocca said that after a time lapse the firm indicated that they wanted to put the television set back in their inventory.

He said he had become accustomed to it and wanted to buy it. "They said maybe we can do that," explained Rocca. "They talked with the head office, then went to local dealers to find what it was worth.

Rocca said he paid approximately $285 for his set, which he still has.

Western TV Cable also refused comment on whether monitoring sets were loaned to persons other than the councilmen.

Another Lawsuit In Taxi Ruckus

Another suit was filed Monday in the continuing fight over taxicab rights at International Airport.

In the latest suit, filed in Superior Court in Redwood City, Yellow Cab Company of San Francisco asks $1.5 million damages from Milton Henke, owner of a South San Francisco-based cab company that has been accused of "pirating" fares at the airport.

The San Francisco firm points out in the suit that since 1964 it has had an exclusive franchise, granted by the city, to operate at the airport and has paid substantial fees for the privilege. Furthermore, the suit states, the company spent substantial sums in promoting its name, and the distinctive color and markings for its cabs.

Starting in 1969, according to the suit, Henke, who also uses the name "Yellow Cab Company," "maliciously . . . copied the physical characteristics of plaintiff's cabs and illegally assumed plaintiff's name, with the intent of deceiving the public."

The suit accuses the rival firm of "repeated trespass" at the airport and of "masquerading" as the franchise company.

The lawsuit goes on to charge that the Henke operation has been "fleecing customers" by charging excessive and illegal rates, that some of these acts have been mistakenly attributed to the San Francisco company and that, as a result, the firm "has been subjected to unwarranted criticism, undeserved rebukes, rejection of services, baseless charges of ignoring fare regulations and harassment and has lost patronage and some measure of reputation."

The franchisee asks $1 million damages on that cause of action, plus $500,000 exemplary damages. In addition, it asks for unspecified damages for loss of revenues.

The suit also asks the court to enjoin Henke's company from continuing to "masquerade" as Yellow Cab Company and from continuing to pick up fares at the airport.

Court hearing on a temporary restraining order has been scheduled for 9:30 a.m. April 21.

Former Water Dept. Employe Sues D.C. For Reinstatement

Charles A. (Gus) Ford, longtime water department employe in Daly City who was forced to retire at the end of 1969, sued Monday for reinstatement.

In a lawsuit filed in Superior Court in Redwood City, the 66-year-old former water operations foreman challenged the retroactive feature of the retirement rule.

In a second suit involving Daly City government personnel, Employes' Union Local 919 demanded that the city replace non-civil service temporary part-time employes in the library system with full-time civil service employes.

Ford, who started to work for Daly City on April 7, 1936, states in his lawsuit that at the time of his hiring there was no rule requiring compulsory retirement. Since than Rule XVII had been adopted, making retirement mandatory at age 65 for those with 20 years of service and at age 70 for those with less than 20 years of employment.

Because the rule was applied retroactively, the lawsuit states, Ford was forced to retire and was "discharged against his will and without just cause and in violation of his contract of employment. "He asks the court to direct the city to reinstate him with back pay.

The suit filed by the employes' union states that during the past two years 26 temporary part-time employes have been hired for work in the library, in addition to 10 full-time civil service employes.

The document asks the court to order the city to implement civil service rules and regulations and replace the part-time aides with full-time workers "wherever feasible."

Officer Dangling on a Cable Pulls Crash Victim From Sea

Dennis Shields of San Bruno, saved from death in an amazing rescue Saturday after a light plane crashed into the ocean off the South San Mateo County coast, was reported in satisfactory condition later in Stanford University Hospital.

Shields, 25, of 406 West San Bruno Avenue, was plucked out of the ocean in a daring and dramatic rescue pulled off by a young Coast Guard officer.

Missing and presumed killed in the crash was the pilot and owner of of the two-place plane, Lyman C. Latta, 28, of 361 Texas Place, San Bruno.

Both men were machinists at Western Airlines at International Airport.

Shields, who was saved by another San Bruno resident, Coast Guard Lt. (j.g.) Terry Sinclair, 24, was scheduled to undergo surgery for severe facial injuries. He was in the intensive care unit for awhile but was moved out when his condition improved.

The crash site was 200 or 300 yards offshore about two miles south of Pigeon Point at the extreme southern tip of the county. A witness, Raymond F. Peters, 32, of San Francisco, told Deputy Sheriff David Wing that at about 12:30 p.m. Saturday he saw the plane spinning out of control and plummeting directly for the ocean. Then the craft appeared to straighten out for a moment before starting to spin again. It hit the water at a 90-degree angle, the witness said.

A Coast Guard helicopter was dispatched and, after searching for an hour, spotted the wreckage and saw the figure of a man bobbing in the water. Lt. Sinclair, the co-pilot, was lowered on a cable. He managed to get Shields, who was semi-conscious, into a rescue sling by grasping him by the hair.

Sinclair remained in the water while the victim was winched aboard and flown to shore. Then, after retrieving Sinclair, the copter flew Shields to Palo Alto Airport, where an ambulance was waiting to take him to the hospital.

Shields was reportedly semi-conscious and incoherent and unable to identify the other occupant of the plane.

Three Sheriff's Reserve skin-divers were flown back to the scene in a second Coast Guard helicopter and were dropped into the ocean to search for the pilot. They found nothing but scattered wreckage.

Latta's car was found near the place where his airplane, a Taylor Craft two-seater, was usually moored at Half Moon Bay Airport. San Bruno police contacted Latta's wife and confirmed that he had gone flying with Shields.

A Coast Guard heliopter searched the ocean again for three hours Sunday but came up with nothing more than a wheel from the plane.

S.S.F. Man Drowns In Water Tank

Mario Joseph Marsili, 54, owner of a vegetable stand and truck garden on Old Mission Road north of Grand Avenue in South San Francisco for many years, took his own life Monday by placing a 4.8-pound piece of lead in his pocket and jumping into a 30,000-gallon water tank at his truck garden, the coroner's office reported today.

Marsili's body was discovered shortly after noon at the bottom of the 20-foot deep tank by his son, Paul, 25, coroner's investigators said.

According to officials, Marsili's wife, Alice, had heard her husband awake in the kitchen around 3 in the morning. She said when the family got up around 6 a.m. and went to the kitchen, her husband was not around.

Mrs. Marsili reported her husband had been depressed, and around noon the family notified South San Francisco police, who broadcast a missing person alarm about the missing man.

About the same time that police were notified, Marsili's son went to his father's bedroom and found the older man's wallet on a dresser. In the wallet was a note which declared:

"Dear Alice,

"The pains in my head at times are unbearable. I cannot see myself confined the rest of my life because this is what eventually will happen. I love the mother and everybody.

"Love, Mario."

Underneath the signature was the word "watertank."

The son went to the water tank and found his father's body at the bottom. Police and the South San Francisco fire department were called.

In addition to his wife and son, Marsili leaves a daughter, Marian, investigators said.

Funeral services will be held from the Larson Garden Chapel in South San Francisco.

Barber Due In Court

Robert Staack, proprietor of the Sunshine Gardens Barber Shop at 1164 Old Mission Road, South San Francisco, was due in court Tuesday to show cause why he should not be restrained from keeping his shop open late on Fridays.

The restraining order was asked Monday in a lawsuit filed in Superior Court in Redwood City by James A. Cramp, secretary-treasurer of Barbers Local 148.

The suit states that Staack advertised in a local newspaper that he would keep his shop open on Fridays until 9 p.m., three hours beyond the union closing hour and that, although he said he changed his plans, he did in fact stay open after 6 on April 3.

Presiding Superior Court Judge Melvin E. Cohn was scheduled to hear the matter today.

Long, Tough Summer For Youth Work

attended this meeting "many were just not sincere—unfortunately."

Indicative of the strain the dollar is going through this year is the fact that for 14 years the JUHSD has budgeted for teachers and replacement personnel the year before.

"This year not a single teacher — not even a single employe has been hired," Edward Morgan, superintendent of the JUHSD, said.

The success or failure of the Summer Youth Program hinges on the cooperation of the local business community, Marion H. Goodwin said.

Goodwin, director of the Daly City Information and Referral Center, said the program motivated youth to return to school.

"A job means a little money—money they can use to buy some clothes. It may not mean a whole lot to some people, but a summer job means everything to a youngster who doesn't have anything," Goodwin said.

Another meeting is set for later this month.

D.C. Raps Golf Policy

San Francisco's increased charges for non-residents who want to play golf at one of the city's muni courses was labeled "discriminatory" by the Daly City City Council Monday.

In a resolution sent to San Francisco Monday the council urged the rate schedule for non-residents who want to play golf on San Francisco courses be revised.

One of the courses lies within San Mateo County, but local residents must pay a higher rate to play there.

The course is the Sharps Park layout in Pacifica which considers other than San Francisco residents "outsiders" and charges accordingly.

The issue was kicked off some three weeks ago in a two-pronged attack.

First Mayor Bernard (Bud) Lycett was informed the San Mateo County Board of Supervisors had approached Mayor Joseph Alioto on the matter; and a North Daly City golfing enthusiast, Richard Miyashiro, circulated a petition asking for reduced rates.

Miyashiro presented his petition to the city council two weeks ago with more than 300 signatures.

However the San Francisco Parks and Recreation Commission had not answered the supervisors' letter at that time and Mayor Lycett instructed City Manager David Rowe to send a followup letter.

There has been no answer to this latest inquiry, it was learned.

'Open Campus'? Parental Opinion Given

In an effort to determine parental opinion on the open campus issue, students at Westmoor High School have taken home letters explaining a proposed plan for open campus as well as a slip attached to the letter asking parents if they agreed or disagreed with a trial period for the plan, comments were invited.

The letter sent out the week of Apirl 6, by Westmoor's student body president Debbie Shapiro explained to parents, that the proposal to have an open campus at Westmoor would be merely on a trial basis to let the students prove themselves as responsible young adults. The Student government's executive board had met with Superintendent of Schools, Edward Morgan to gain permission for sending the letter.

After tabulation of the replies, a convocation will take place on April 28 at 7:30 p.m. in the Boy's Gym. Students, parents, community members, and faculty are encouraged to attend this mass meeting at which Debbie Shapiro will give a summary of the student stand on open campus. After her presentation, small discussion groups to answer specific questions are planned. Principal Clayton Kollmann, Vice Principal Margaret Riggs and Superintendent Morgan have been invited to attend the meeting and field questions.

Westmoor Teacher To Lead Group

A teacher of geography, English and mathematics at Westmoor High School, is planning to jet across the Pacific this summer with a group of students to attend classes in Hong Kong and Japan.

Mrs. Winifred Y. Washburn of 224 Colon Avenue, San Francisco will chaperone a group of high school students on a six-week oriental study tour July 9-Aug. 15. They will attend classes in Hong Kong and Japan by the Extra Mural Department of Hong Kong University organized by the American Institute for Foreign Study (AIFS).

Although Mrs. Washburn, will do no teaching in the orient — all instruction will be by Hong Kong University staff — her role as AIFS chaperone will be to act as combination guardian, advisor and friend.

All student life in Hong Kong will revolve around her, and she will help her students make the necessary adjustment to oriental life.

Mrs. Washburn has scheduled a number of meetings prior to departure to prepare the students for the experience.

The American Institute for Foreign Study is an association of teachers and students, with national headquarters in Greenwich, Connecticut.

Homeowners File Suit For Damages

Owners of 27 Westborough subdivision homes in South San Francisco filed suit Friday for $500,000 punitive damages and at least $270,000 in actual damages for alleged uncorrected structural defects in their homes.

The homes are on Cork Place, Callan Boulevard, Duhallow and Leix Ways, and Farnes, Erris, Sean and Tyrone courts. Defendants are Conklin Bros. Inc., Caesar-Callan Homes and Callan Realty.

The suit charges that, because of "negligence and carelessness" on the part of the defendants, the houses have "warped, separated, cracked and failed." The amount of actual damages, according to the complaint, cannot be determined at the paresent time, but is said to be in excess of $10,000 for each home.

Representations made by the defendants before sale, the suit states, were known to be false and were made with the intent to "defraud and deceive."

"The true facts," the document recites, "were that major structural defects existed in said dwelling houses and said . . . houses were not constructed in a workmanlike manner and would not repel the elements of nature."

Attorney Leland H. Bray, who filed the suit for the owners, said the major complaint is that floor tile will not stay in place and the houses have a tendency to retain moisture.

BOARD ELECTION

The new Executive Board of Directors of the Information and Referral Center was elected at the March meeting. On Thursday at 7:30 p.m. the bylaws will be presented by Chairman Emelio Franco and vice chairman Al Bettucchi. The open meeting will be held at the Orange Street Library, South San Francisco

Testimonial Dinner Honors Councilman On Retirement

Edward Dennis

A testimonial dinner honoring retiring Daly City city councilman Edward J. Dennis has been set for May 20 at the War Memorial Building.

More than 500 persons are expected to attend the function inside the modernistic structure Dennis was instrumental in having built on Mission Street.

The councilman announced last December he was retiring after 20 years of civic duty. In January he also retired from his post as president of the Dairy Workers and Milk Drivers Union after some 28 years.

Dennis, a long-time resident of Daly City, lives in the "old" section of city and is well known among the residents there and to senior citizens organizations.

Tickets are available at $10 per person from co-chairmen Ray Savage or Frank Spadarella. Information concerning the testimonial call city manager David Rowe or Mrs. Ann Dissing.

Chase Ends In A Wreck

A high speed chase through narrow Daly City streets ended early on Monday when the teen-aged driver of a stolen car lost control and smashed into two parked cars.

The car theft suspect, identified as Elisha Guiterrez, 16, 360 Peoria Street, Daly City, was pulled from the wreckage by Officer Russ Cunningham, uninjured except for a bump on the head.

All three cars were totally demolished, according to police.

Cunningham said he had taken a stolen car report from a Daly City resident only 30 minutes before the wreck.

While on patrol in the Brunswick Street area, Cunningham spotted the stolen car and gave chase.

Speeds topped 75 miles per hour as the suspect tried to evade the officer.

At the corner of Brunswick and Hillside the car skidded out of control, hit a parked car, rolled over and smashed into another parked car.

Guiterrez was booked into City Jail and later transferred to Hillcrest Youth Guidance Center.

Chickens Slaughtered

A flock of 18 chickens was slaughtered with heavy clay pots at the Podesta Nursery in Daly City sometime Saturday night.

The grisly find was reported by owner John Podesta shortly after 9 a.m. Sunday.

According to police, the battered remains of the chickens lay among broken pots in the nursery area.

It was the second attack on the nursery in two days.

Saturday, five teen-aged youths were apprehended shortly after discovery of numerous broken glass window panes in one of the hot houses at the nursery, located off Hoffman Street.

Estimate On Flood Lamps In S.S.F.

A preliminary estimate of $3,230 has been made by the South San Francisco city engineering staff for permanent installation of display flood lamps at city hall, as outlined several months ago by PG&E.

Councilmen have authorized the transfer of funds from the beautification account to cover the expense.

The engineer's office recommended that the city utilize its own forces wherever possible to do the work, and that the city buy the lighting fixtures and contract with an electrical contractor for final installation.

Breakdown of costs show $1,930 for the fixtures and $1,300 for labor and incidental supplies.

The estimate also is based on the assumption that city employes will excavate and backfill 100 linear feet of trench and construct four small concrete footings.

In other fund transfers, councilman okayed the move of $2,617 from the contingency reserve account to the planning studies account to pay for the cent acoustical study on jet airplane noise made by the firm of Wilson, Ihrig of Berkeley.

Councilmen also authorized a complicated and necessary transfer of remaining funds in three escrow accounts to clear accounts and refund $315.40 to Caesar Callan Homes for sidewalk work adjacent to the Westborough 2½-acre park.

D.C.'s NAACP Slates Meet

The April meeting of the Daly City Chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People will be held at the Lincoln Park Clubhouse, Action and Brunswick Streets, Daly City this Sunday, April 19, at 4 p.m.

Agenda for the meeting will include a discussion of the dedication of the Martin Luther King Educational Center and the Black musical to be held at the War Memorial Community Center on April 26 at 2 p.m.

"The musical will be an attempt to bring one aspect of Black culture to Daly City," according to Madge Bradstreet, President of the local group. Tickets are $1.50 for adults, 75 cents for minors.

S.S.F. Releases 'Counter Offer'

Working toward the May 1 deadline as requested by the negotiating council, the South San Francisco Unified School Distict administration has released its "most recent" counter offer of salary and fringe benefits for the 1970-71 school year.

The trustees received nineteen pages of proposals from the negotiating council, referred to as "a million dollar package," back in February.

The administration's reply covers nine items. These include increase of teachers' salary schedule by 3½ per cent, and increase of district payment up to $24 a month toward major medical health plan and-or dental plan, effective 90 days after reporting to work.

The negotiating council seeks a cost of living increase "commensurate with the rise in the Bay Area" and a fully paid medical plan.

Other salary increases proposed by the administration were hourly wage increases for adult education teachers, home teachers, driver training teachers, substitute teachers, coaches and five positions of the red cross swim program.

The proposed increases were below the proposals of the negotiating council.

"We have cut $419,800 out of the preliminary budget for 1970-71, and cuts of $527,000 were made for this year's budget," said the administration release.

"Honey can come from only two sources, local taxes and state funds. Federal funds have been less than one per cent of our budget and there is little chance to get more from that source.

"Therefore," say administration officials, "If additional money is to be provided, it can only come from the passage of Proposition 8, and-or the passage of the 75-cent tax increase on the June 2 ballot.

Jefferson Drive To Fight Cancer

Ten students from Jefferson High in Daly City participated in the Bay Area's drive to obtain money to fight cancer.

This was the start of a month long campaign to aid the American Cancer Society.

The students from Jefferson met with students from Westmoor and Serramonte at Toto's Restaurant, then proceeded to apartment buildings in the Westlake area.

They distributed information explaining the seven warning signals of cancer and distributed contribution envelopes. The student drive will continue at the Westlake Bowl on every Saturday during the month of April.

The school that totals the most man hours will receive a plaque from the Bay Area Cancer Society.

On May 2, students from Jefferson on a voluntary basis will participate in Project Concern's Walk For Mankind. The Walk For Mankind is a fund raising activity to help 200,000 ill and often starving children and adults who visit Project Concern's six clinics and three small hospitals in Hong Kong, Tijuana, Mexico, South Vietnam and Tennessee, U.S.A.!

The march will begin in Golden Gate Park for a scenic, 22-mile Walk. Walkers solicit sponsors prior to the Walk. For example, a Walker might go to a local merchant, organization or friends who promise to pay him so much a mile. After the Walk, the Walkers return to their sponsors and present their passport which is validated at each mile to show how many miles he has walked.

Several successful walks have already been held throughout the country, and high school students have proved the best walkers.

A student walk director has been chosen from Jeff to coordinate distribution of Walker's registration cards and sponsor sheets as well as to publicize the Walk. The student is Senior Class President Riley Atkins.

Bruno Youth Is Injured

An 18-year-old San Bruno youth was in fair condition Friday at Peninsula Hospital, Burlingame, following a two-vehicle accident Friday afternoon.

Steven T. Livera, of 2219 Hamilton Avenue, suffered a fractured jaw, knee and facial cuts when the vehicle he was driving collided with a dirt hauling truck.

The accident occurred at approximately 2:45 p.m. Police said Livera was traveling westbound on Crystal Springs Road. The truck, according to police, was in the process of making a left turn onto Junipero Serra from eastbound Crystal Springs when the two collided.

There was extensive damage to both vehicles. The truck driver, Harold S. Oldham, 54, of 1610 East Second Avenue, San Mateo, was not injured.

Free X-Rays In Daly City

Persons 18 years of age or older may obtain a free chest X-ray April 15 in Daly City.

The mobile unit of the Tuberculosis and Respiratory Disease Association of San Mateo County will be stationed that day outside El Rancho Market, 2900 Geneva Avenue, from 2-6 p.m.

Purpose of the X-ray is to give early warning of TB, lung cancer and enlarged heart. No advance appointment is necessary.

Dedication Is Slated

A formal dedication of South San Francisco's new Westborough Fire Station will be held "in a few weeks," according to City Mgr. Tom McKenzie.

Councilmen have officially accepted the work on the facility.

Other "notices of completion" by the councilmen include the interior painting of the central fire station, and ditch improvement on Hickey Boulevard.

S.S.F. Approval

Repair and some replacement of windows at the South San Francisco city hall and Grand Avenue Library has been approved by city officials.

Westborough Park Project Wins Approval Of Additions

South San Francisco councilmen have okayed a list of 15 additional items, and one deletion, totaling $3.362.77 for phase one of the Westborough 10-Acre Park construction.

The project is earmarked for completion by May 31. Work began on November 17, with 100 working days allowed the contractor, A&J Shooter, Inc. As of the end of February, the firm had lost 26 days to inclement weather.

Landscape architect David Mayes reports that "from the standpoint of the physical state of the project, and the latest statement of account, it is approximately 50 per cent complete."

Meanwhile he submitted the list of changes in the work. Two items pertained to the irrigation system; a $580 installation of a vacuum breaker above ground with an enclosing cabinet, needed to secure equipment; and $199 worth of extension of a two-inch main to the area of the future tennis courts. This will permit adding future systems at the courts without disturbing areas being improved and planted under the present contract.

There were three items included for park water services.

Installation of a one-inch meter and valve, with appurtenances, to the water system, to cost $380. This was not part of the contract. Installation was thought to be made by the water company.

A second water system cost is $1,175 for installation of a two-inch meter, valve, box, fittings and piping to run to the vacuum breaker location. This change was necessary because the final location of water service at Gilbert Court (West Park 3) was only recently resolved, and is remote from the point originally expected.

And $190 will go toward grading, to establish elevation for trenching between the two-inch meter and the vacuum breaker. The area at the end of Gilbert Court had been left high as part of "winterization" control.

Four changes were listed under the electrical work

Addition to a one-and-one-quarter-inch conduit for path lights cost $40. The conduit was added after an earlier change order was approved to accommodate the larger number of wires between Building 1 and the first branch point.

Conduit, outlet box and stubs from the control box at the grandstand will cost $225. This change was part of a park and recreation department request for an additional microphone outlet at the ballfield level away from the scorekeeper's stand.

A time clock, relay and wiring, to control lights at the picnic shelter, will cost $213. Automatic control for these lights was not provided for in the original contract.

And $175 is needed for extension of one-and-one-half-inch of conduit (path light service) to a PG&E pull box. The box is located away from the location originally expected.

Also included is $97.95 for the general contractor's overhead and 15 per cent profit of the total of the irrigation, water services and electrical work costs.

She Wants To Write Servicemen

A letter writing woman from Michigan has written the South San Francisco mayor seeking names and addresses of servicemen.

The Dearborn Heights housewife said she began writing letters to American servicemen more than three years ago.

Her letter to the mayor, dated March 30, 1970, said, "To date, 5,975 men in uniform serving on foreign fronts have received personal letters from me. I've drained our area and now I am combing all parts of the country for others."

The envelope, with the return address of Mrs. Blanche Lakish, 8202 Appleton, zip 48127, incidentally, had an interesting addendum.

It said "office of the mayor, or whoever is in charge of South San Francisco, please."

Enclosed in the letter also were a couple of newspaper clippings regarding her hobby. In them she explained, "People are reluctant to send names unless they know the person who is asking for them."

THE LARGEST AND FINEST GIFT SELECTION IN THE BAY AREA

DC Girl Scouts Plan Dramatics

"The Play is the Thing" for Daly City Girl Scouts preparing dramatic presentations for Scout - A - Whirl 1970 at the Oakland Coliseum on April 18 from 12:30 to 8 p.m. and April 19 from 12 to 6 p.m.

Troops 446 and 1704 are doing pantomimes entitled "The Girl Scouts Land on the Moon" and "A Child's Dream". Senior Scouts of Troop 24 will dramatize a scene from Macbeth.

An original play, "Sleeping Beauty Around the World" will be presented by Troop No. 738, while the story of Betsy Ross is to be dramatized by Troop 632.

California History is the theme of an original play, "The Argonaut", prepared by Cadette Troop 716 and for a puppet show by Troop 924. A puppeteer, Mrs. Kay Bollingdonk, has aided the cadettes of Troop 924 in making their puppets and staging their presentation.

Brownie Troop 2791 also will present a puppet show, "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs."

Songs and dances will be performed by troops 1187, American Folksongs; 1410, Indian Songs; 43 Guitar Group songs and excerpts from famous Musicials; 1377, Hula Hoop Dance; 442 Circus Acts; 758, "Love is Blue" jazz - ballet, and 594, square Dancing.

Scenery backdrops and stage props are being fire - proofed by Fred Stewart in order to comply with Coliseum fire regulations.

Hank Minter, president of the Western Twirlers who dance each Thursday evening at the Colma School is serving as instructor of western square dancing for Cadette Troop 8. During the past three months the girls have learned basic square dance calls and are preparing exhibition dances to perform in the Coliseum Arena for Scout - A Whirl.

The Girls' P.E. Dept. of Serramonte High School has contributed dance instruction for several acts. Mrs. M. Millar, the dance club sponsor, has advised a group of cadettes on a modern dance routine. Mrs. C. Richardson has aided a group of ninth and tenth grade scouts in preparing a Renaissance dance presentation.

Kenneth Brown of the Westmoor High School Drama Department has provided advice on staging, lighting and make - up plus addresses of theatrical supply firms.

Mrs. Alta Reed of Christopher Columbus School is serving as the consultant to Junior Troop 715, providing the script, costume ideas and songs for a play about the Japanese Doll Festival. Mrs. F. Stanghellini is holding rehearsals and directing the girls in their play production.

Cadettes for Troop 43 and 586 are rehearsing a vaudville show with Mrs. R. Pardini directing the "chorus line" and Jeanne Wyner instructing the Charleston group. Mrs. John Markel of Alec's Craft Dept. is contributing her know-how in creating stage props and costumes.

Junior Troop 1854 and Cadettes of Troop 124 are preparing a London Music Hall Show with the Pearlys by sewing numerous white buttons on jackets and trousers in addition to learning the Cockney songs under the direction of Mrs. Fred Stewart.

Brownie Troops 2011, 2059, 1740, 717, 759, 387 and Junior Troop 194 are making hundreds of "give - aways" representing the theater arts as souvenirs from the Daly City Girl Scouts.

Admission is 50 cents per person. Children under five years of age are admitted free.

Organ Unit To Meet; Need Books

The newly elected officers of the Northern Peninsula Organ Club will preside at the regualr monthly meeting on Wednesday at the Hillside Recreation Center in South San Francisco, beginning at 8 p.m.

The organ music will be provided by club members Vivian Dunton, Pearl DeSoto, Dr. Alfred Marsden and Mike Martyn, as well as a special guest.

"Keep those books coming!" is the call sent out this week by the Friends of the Daly City Library.

They have need of many more used books and paperbacks to sell at their fifth annual Book Fair which will be held all day May 9, in the Westlake Shopping Center Mall.

The Daly City firemen, under the direction of Chief Herbert Ritzmann, are assisting in the collection by accepting donations at all branches of the Daly City Fire Department. Books also may be left at the three libraries.

National Library Week is April 12-18.

All of the proceeds will be used for the purchase of a gift for the library and in the promotion of public interest in the use of our excellent library facilities.

Books must be collected, priced and categorizer; therefore, volunteers are needed. Anyone interested in working on the Fair may leave their name at the Westlake Library or call Mrs. William George.

SUSAN ANTON
. . . Miss California

Miss California Will Sing At Pacifica Pageant

"The Sound of Young" will be reflected in the Miss Pacifica Pageant, April 25, 8 p.m., at Terra Nova High School.

Susan Ellen Anton, Miss California 1969, is a happy girl, and when she stands tall and poised (5' 11") ready to sing, she is really saying the words of happy songs she sings.

"When you give of yourself to an audience, they really feel it and they respond," she says.

Her favorite songs are ballads and the happy ones, like "Put on a Happy Face" and "Get Happy," are two songs involved in a medley which Miss California will sing in the 1970 Miss Pacifica Pageant.

Susan had no formal vocal training for the Miss California Pageant.

MISS LITTLE LEAGUE in Pacifica, chosen after competition Saturday night, is dark-haired Pamela Reynolds, one of the five aspirants for the crown and a student at Pedro Valley School. She tap danced at variety show segment of contest and will appear on April 25 program of Miss Pacifica pageant.

Kesey Novel Is Nesting In S.F.

Ken Kesey might appropirately be labeled, "controversial." His arrest and subsequent flight and court case made frequent local headlines. In the wake of such sensationalism, his novel, "One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest" is being staged in San Francisco.

It is being rehearsed now by Lee Sankowich, a young San Franciscan raised the money from family and friends with partner Rudi Golyn. Set to open at the Little Fox Theater, on April 15, it will feature 17 people in the cast, five less than when it played on Broadway in 1963.

Dale Wasserman (who wrote 'Man of La Mancha') bought the book rights and framed it into a play for Kirk Douglas who played the lead for five months in New York. Douglas' image wasn't accepted by the public, according to Sankowich, "because they came to see him, the movie star, and lost sight of the story which takes place totally in a mental hospital. He still hopes to make it into a film, with himself in the lead, I suppose."

The drama was done in Mill Valley last October and three members of that cast, John Garber, Drew Eshelman and Fredric Cooke are repeating their assignments again.

"COOKE BUMMED HIS WAY UP TO OREGON where Kesey is working on the Tom Wolfe film, 'Electric Koolaid Acid Test" to talk with him but Kesey isn't interested in the play anymore. He's too involved with other things right now."

Sankowich claims, "Kesey is a hard guy to get through to." They haven't met but the former was working as a law clerk when Kesey was in court on marijuana possession charges and he saw him there.

The director began in drama at S.F. State College and studied with Marlon Brando's teacher at USC. His uncle is playwright Samuel Taylor who "wasn't too hot about my going into acting."

After switching over to an English major and picking up his degree at S.F. State. he dabbled in television and films before making the big step into Hastings Law School, to please his family. The decision didn't stick and he's now convinced that theater is his bag.

THE PLAY HAS UNDERGONE CHANGES since New York and is now closer to the book. Sankowich conferred with Wasserman in L.A. who gave permission to adjust the dialogue, taking it directly from the book.

The Little Fox Theater is undergoing similar changes. The producers have removed 13 front row seats to bring the audience into closer intimacy with people in the mental ward.

"I was originally attracted to the show as a dramatic presentation. I must have been naive because there is so much more. Kesey wasn't so far ahead of his time but he was way ahead of me."

It deals with the classic struggle of the individual with the organization, or "establishment." Previews begin April 12 at reduced rates.

Brentwood Lodge, South San Francisco, was the setting for the recent luncheon honoring the Den Mothers of Cub Scout Pack 291.

Mesdames Frank Diamos, Lonzo Warren, Luciano Funghi, Haywood Wright, Joseph Mifsud, Kenneth Doane, Arthur Clouatre and Estella Meyer were joined by newly elected Den Leader Coach Mrs. Robert Hermone as honored guests at the luncheon.

Committee Chairman Robert Blazer stated that this was the Cub Scout Pack's "thank you" to their den mothers.

Cub Scouts of Den 4 Page 360 had a great afternoon. The boys not only were shown how to make a pizza, but also were able to enjoy the finished product, courtesy of the Management.

They were shown how to mix and roll the dough, then viewed the cooler kept baloney, salami and cheeses.

After being liberally sprinkled with tasty bits of choice meats, the rolled dough was put in the high temperature oven to bake. The boys watched a Mr. McGoo cartoon movie, then settled down for steaming hot pizza and cokes on the house.

"OLD SAN FRANCISCO" is the theme of Our Lady of Mercy's festival to be held on April 30 through May 3 and, in keeping with the San Francisco tradition of good food, a roast chicken dinner, prepared and donated by Joe's of Westlake will be one of its highlights. Shown at Joe's are left to right: Chuck Boerio (festival chairman), Mary Lawson, Anna Gemignani, Tom O'Brien, Juanita Hollstron, Kay Glebow and Howie Poblitz.

'Fun With Fashion' Set At Serramonte Grade School

"Fun With Fashion," a variety show recalling the years 1897-1929 through comedy, fashion and song. will be presented by the Skyline School P-TA in South San Francisco on Saturday at 7:30 p.m.

Alicia Clay, Florence Smith, Jolene Tyrell and Joanne Michelucci, all of Daly City, may be contacted for reservations.

The show will be in the multi-purpose room of Skyline School.

Miss Daly City — Caroline Rickenbacher — will be a special guest, appearing in a comedy sketch illustrating how swimwear has drastically changed since 1908.

Appearing with the bikini-clad Miss Rickenbacher will be Serramonte Homeowners' Association president, Jim DeVincenzi, and his wife, Susan, who will be in 1908 bathing suits.

"The sketches will cover a wide range of nostalgic memories such as the days of Lillian Russell, Diamond Jim, The Barbershop Quartet, the Gibson Girl and The Flapper, making the show of interest both to husbands and wives, according to Joan Allen, ways and means chairman, who is spearheading the Serramonte community effort behind this fund-raising event.

Many residents of Serramonte and Terra Loma will appear in the show, which P-TA vice president Eleanor Fesnoff will emcee.

Authentic costumes for the show come from the renowned collection of Mrs. Thomas Leach of San Mateo.

Each scene in the show will be accompanied by an appropriate song and the audience will be invited to "sing along" such old favorites as "When Johnny Comes Marching Home," "Meet Me in St. Louis," "Tavern in the Town," "In the Good Old Summertime" and "Oh, You Beautiful Doll."

ECHOES FROM THE SOUTH PACIFIC," a Polynesian dance show sponsored by the YWCA to benefit the World Fellowship will be presented April 25, at 8 p.m. at 620 Sutter Street, San Francisco. YWCA dance instructor, Jerry Matlock (shown third from left in the picture) will be coordinating the event. Classes in Polynesian dance are available in Daly City as well as special teen classes in South San Francisco.

LOUANNE HEATH'S DATEBOOK

IT WILL BE "ADULTS ONLY" tonight when members of the Monte Verde P-TA assemble in the school to listen to a San Bruno Police Department program about molestation.

According to Mrs. Richard Solomon of the P-TA unit, the San Bruno Police Department will send one of its officers to show the film, "The Molester," and discuss the problem of the child molester with the audience.

The terrifying experience of two little girls is depicted in the movie which has been donated by the Skyline Memorial Park.

Interested persons are invited to attend the session which will begin at 8 p.m. For more information contact Mrs. Solomon.

"WE JUST CAN'T WAIT for June to come," is the comment of Mrs. Hal Fox, who, with her husband, is preparing to lead a Foreign Study League tour of Europe this spring.

Passports, Sistine Chapel, Shots, luggage and the Eifel Tower are all part of the new vocabulary the group of local students are learning in preparation for their tour with the Foxes.

Fifteen teen-agers from San Francisco, Daly City, San Bruno and even one from Visalia will be abroad the big TWA jet when it leaves Oakland International Airport on June 28. The teens meet recently at the Fox home for their second orientation meeting and discussed their ideas about the trip. According to Mrs. Fox there are openings for three more students and information can be obtained concerning the signing up for the tour and the date for the next orientation meeting by contacting Mr. or Mrs. Fox at 228 Del Prado Drive in Daly City or by phoning 756-3174.

MEMBERS OF THE FIFTY Plus club and their guests who are going on the Reno trip April 25 and 26 are urged to notify Mrs. Edna Laurel Calhan of the location at which they intend to board the chartered bus.

Plans call for a chartered Grayhound bus to make four pick ups of club members and she must have the information to assure that no one is left behind.

The sites picked for boarding the tour bus are the Seventh and Mission Street terminal in San Francisco, Mrs. Calhan's home on Crestalke Drive in San Francisco, the Westlake shopping center and the Pacifica City Hall.

TONIGHT WILL BE ELECTION NIGHT for the Altar-Rosary Sodality of Good Shepherd Parish in Pacifica.

According to Mrs. Stan Prowse, the regular monthly meeting will convene at 8 p.m. in the parish hall immediately following a devotional service in the parish church. Installation of the officers who will be elected this evening will be held at a Pizza Party Celebration on Wednesday, May 20, Mrs. Prowse said.

This Sunday morning members of the sodality will attend the monthly communion of the Sodality during the 9:30 a.m. mass. Members are urged to mark their calendars for the proper time and date, Mrs. Prowse concluded.

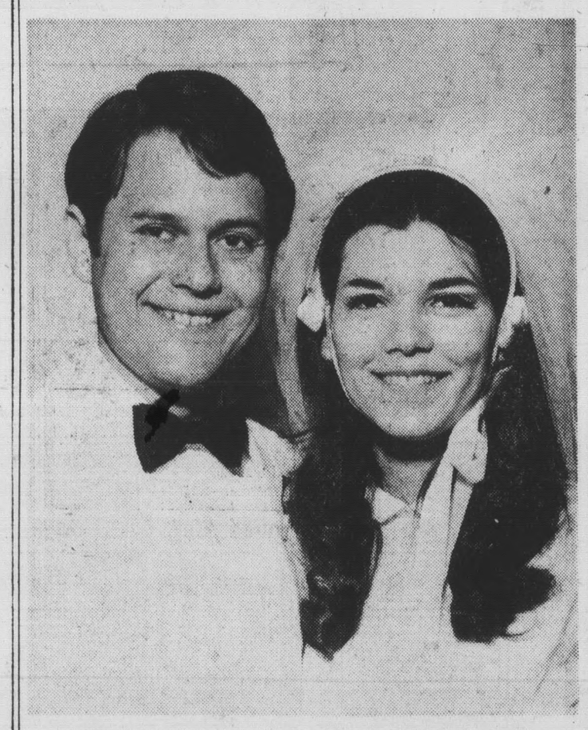
San Francisco Hotel Is Setting For Recent Rites



THE DOUGLAS DUNLOPS (Evanna Perazzi)

The Mark Hopkins Hotel was the recent setting for the marriage of Evanna Lynn Perazzi, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Horace John Perazzi of San Francisco, and Douglas Bruce Dunlop, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Dunlop of South San Francisco. Rabbi Joseph Asher of Temple Emanu-El officiated at the 2 p.m. ceremony in the Room of the Dons which was followed by a reception in the Peacock Court.

The bride wore a gown of white poie de soie appliqued with Alencon lace and pearls.

Mrs. Charles Robinson was the matron of honor, and Sondra Levy and Lexie Funcke were the bridesmaids. They all wore orange chiffon.

Charles Soss was Douglas' best man, and guests were seated by Berle Davis and Bob Del Prado.

The couple is honeymooning in Tahiti and will live in San Francisco.

Evanna attended Lowell High School and the College of San Mateo.

Seating will be on a first-come first-served basis for "Fun With Fashion" which is the only fund-raising event of the school year.

Coffee and homemade cake will be served between 7:30 and 8:30 p.m., with the variety show beginning promptly at 8:30 p.m.

Following the performance homemade cakes will be sold at "very old-fashioned prices."

Wine Tasting Session Set

Our Lady of Perpetual Help Mothers' Club will hold their second annual wine tasting and silent auction on April 22, at 8 p.m. in the school hall, 80 Wellington Avenue, Daly City.

Admission will be $2 a couple, and $1.50 stag.

Families To Host Pupils In D.C.

This Sunday a number of families of the Broadmoor Presbyterian Church, 377-87th Street, Daly City, will host foreign students at church worship, the coffee time, and in their homes.

These students attend San Francisco State College.

This is a part of the outreach emphasis being made the next three weeks in the local congregation.

The following Sunday the Rev. Fred Appleton of the Philippines will speak at the 9:30 and 11:00 a.m. services and will show colored slides of the Philiipines at 7:30 p.m

The next Sunday on May 3, the 7:30 evening presentation is to be made by Marion Goodwin with a panel of informed persons concerning local needs of this community.

Goodwin is director of the Daly City Information and Referral Center.

The Mission and Society Committee of the local church is in charge of these events. The chairman is Mrs. Bernice Hamilton with two of the members, Louis Haan and Mrs. Betty Sheets, heading the hosting of students and the presentation of Goodwin.

Rev. Herbert Tweedie, the pastor, invites the public to the events.

Ram Spring Festival Is April 21-23

Westmoor's second annual Spring Festival to be held April 21, 22 and 23 will transform the girl's gym into a demonstration and display showcase of student talents in every department. The co-curricular program will also be evident, as clubs have made plans to man booths in the gym, which will also be open to parents during Open House on Thursday, April 23 from 7:30 to 9:00 p.m.

In addition to the displays and demonstrations in the girls' gym, many classes will put on demonstrations during the school day in their respective classrooms. The girls' trampoline class will perform and in the English department, a "hearing show" — similar to a "light show" but using the audio sense — will be presented. Westmoor's award-winning stage band will perform during the lunch hour in the Little Theater.

Club displays will range from edible French foods displayed by the French Club to inedible horse goods displayed by the Horseman's Association, who last year changed its display every day during the three-day run of the festival.

Clubs and departments have coordinated efforts with the business groups giving demonstration on electric typewriters and calculators, lent by the distributors. Along with projects made by the students in industrial arts will be an electronics circuit demonstration and hopefully an "auto show" in the mall.

As in last year's festival, blood typing will be done. This has been repeated by popular demand.

The three school publications, the newspaper, yearbook and literary magazine, will offer their own displays to give students an understanding of what work is entailed in publishing such an effort. Next to their displays will be one from the English department, ranging from colleges on education to mythology projects.

Wooden and metal sculptures, both abstract and realistic, papier mache masks and fantasy animals will share the central gymnasium area along with oil paintings, watercolors and graphics. A potter's wheel demonstration will also be included by the art department.

With ecology a most important concern in today's world, a number of clubs and classes have joined forces to present an ecology tunnel focusing on all aspects of population pollution. The group then will offer suggestions for working on the problems at the end of the tunnel.

In charge of the spring festival is Domnick Polillo, assisted by John Branch.

MISS INDUSTRIAL CITY 1970, coronated Saturday at El Camino High School's little theatre, is Jodean Brochu, 18-year-old College of San Mateo freshman who performed a modern dance in the talent section of the Miss Industrial City pageantry. Ten other South San Francisco girls participated. Among the several beauty misses from outside the community was four-year-old Little Miss Brisbane, Theresa Ann Larsen. (Photo By Howard Frankhouse)

Program Openings At YWCA

The San Mateo County YWCA is holding registration for its spring program of classes.

A wide variety of courses are being offered from Drawing and Painting, French Cuisine and Sewing, Color and Design to Duplicate Bridge, Trimnastics, Polynesian Dance and Guitar. Various sport activities - golf and tennis - are also offered.

Courses are planned for adults - both morning and evening classes - as well as those for teens, juniors and pre - schoolers.

This semester classes are held in Daly City, San Francisco, South San Francisco and San Bruno with a variety of classes held in each community.

For information and a spring brochure, contact the office of the YWCA, 375 So. Mayfair, Daly City or call the office.

"Bursting with Fashion" a dessert - fashion Show, will be presented by Buena Vista Chapter of ORT (Organization for Rehabilitation Through Training), May 13, at 7:30 p.m., at Homestead Savings, 130 West Portal Avenue, San Francisco.

Eight women from the chapter will model clothes from "Fashions - on - the - Go".

For reservations or further information call Mrs. David Monasch III in Daly City.

People living today probably remember few springs that compare in beauty, in weather, and in perfect days to this season, thus is fitting that Hope Lutheran Ladies' Guild, 55 San Fernando Way, Daly City, should invite women in Daly City and in surrounding communities to attend it's Oriental Phantasy.

The April 17, 11:30 a.m., Oriental Phantasy will begin with a bake sale and a luncheon at Hope Lutheran Social Hall. Both the luncheon and the bake sale will feature traditional dishes of the Occident and special deliacies of the Orient.

In keeping with the theme, dresses and decorations will advertize the charm of the Far East.

The show following the luncheon will be a charming combination of music and dance. Sharon Palmer, a singer and dancer from Lowell High School, and a group ofsinger - guitar players from Herbert Hoover Junior High School in San Francisco will perform.

The newly - charged Northgate chapter of Haddassah will be held at the home of Mrs. Rose Arrons, 150 Coronado, Daly City, at 8 p.m. April 29.

Mrs. Ronald Cohn will be in charge of a "surprise" program.

Details on the new organization may be obtained from Mrs. Warren Bauer, 73 Oakmont Drive, daly City, or Mrs. Cohn, of 40 Larkspur Drive, Daly City.

Psi Epsilon Ch of Beta Sigma Phi delivered 10 Easter baskets of food to different needy families in So. San Francisco.

Another project is selling Ghiradelli chocolate bars for fund raising.

New officers are:

Black Angus Steak House Is Now Open

Featuring beef from his own 20,000-acre cattle ranch near Ellensburg, Wash., Stuart Anderson of Seattle Washington, opened his newest Black Angus Steak House at Ninth Avenue and Claremont Streets in San Mateo last week. The entire decor of the restaurant has been changed to give the atmosphere that goes with the glamour of a cattle rancher who knows his business. This successful restaurateur already operates several Black Angus Steak Houses (Seattle, Tacoma, Spokane, Bellevue. Yakima and San Diego). Anderson's formula of serving a choice selection of one-price steak dinners at the low price of $3.95 and one-price lunches at $1.75 has won instant approval and fame. If you aren't a steak eater, there's prime rib, chopped tenderloin, King Salmon, lobster tails and prawns. Children's plates are a specialty. Private banquets and lunches for 10 to 200 in the air-conditioned private meeting room by reservation . . . Tressa Lewis, the lovely vocalist with "Mr. Brown and Company" now in Nero's Nook at the Cabana Hyatt House, has been a singer with Duke Ellington and George Shearing. Pianist-conductor Jim Brown did recordings with the Crescendos and the Whispers. . . .

Pat Reilly, the hard-working Sales Director of the Executive House - Thunderbolt Hotel, has been released from the Peninsula Hospital (after a week's stay) and will recuperate for a time before returning to his familiar post at the Millbrae complex. Activities here include a fashion show and luncheon to be held on Thursday, April 30, by the North Peninsula Circle Florence Crittenton Home. Frank Dill of KNBR and KRON will be fashion commentator. Reservations may be made with Mrs. R. L. Ariani or Mrs. Frank Greenwood . . . If you are a lover of Peruvian foods, we highly recommend you try Frank Torres' Beach restaurant in Montara on Coast Highway One. Frank and Fannie specialize in such South American dishes, and have become world famous for their Papa Rellenos, among others . . . Adjacent to the Bayside Motor Inn and just a "Willie Mays' homerun" from Candlestick Park, the new Costa Brava restaurant and cocktail lounge is the closest facility to the baseball center offering penthouse dining, nightly dancing to The Rising Suns and AAA-recommended motel accommodations. The "Foot-Long Martini" is one of the biggest attractions for baseball fans.

Besides being a cheerful gathering spot for downtown business people and shoppers during luncheon, Bruno Fava's popular Third Avenue Bruno's restaurant is attracting big dinner crowds with Continental and Italian cuisine specialties. Bruno's Chicken Cacciatora with Polenta is unbelievable. Complete prime rib dinners are served Friday and Saturday nights . . . Hanging from the ceiling of the La Playa Mexcan restaurant in San Francisco are pinatas; the walls are decorated with Spanish shields and sabers. Separating the dining room from the lounge is lattice work, laced with flowers. Enhancing the atmosphere with guitar and songs is Hugo Cespedes, host - owner of this delightful Mexican cantina, along with his wife, Patty, who was raised on Alcatraz, where her father was auditor for 23 years . . . How often have you heard the expression "first cabin," meaning the best? That's telling it like it is at the lounge called The First Cabin in Daly City, where Neal and Dotty Morehouse believe their patrons deserve the best . . . Japanese food to eat in or take out is the policy at the San Raku in San Mateo. Chicken Teriyaki is the luncheon special, and it's served in an impressive atmosphere of Japanese authenticity. Open from 11:30 a.m. to 10:30 p.m. serving both luncheon and dinner.

While having a night on the town, several members of the cast of the musical "Fiddler on the Roof" joined in the fun at Finocchio's. When introduced by emcee Carroll Wallace, the visiting performers hopped onto the stage for some amusing antics . . . There's never a parking problem at Scotty Campbell's. Park and lock your car in areas on either side of the Redwood City restaurant, then step through the near - by entrance and relax over a gourmet meal in an abundance of hospitality . . . Vince Licata's Seafood Depot, located only a few steps north of Vince's restaurant, offers everything for the home table from fresh seafood to imported cheese. P.S.: Food to go is also available at Vince's . . . A Sabella's on Fisherman's Wharf rates among the restaurant leaders. Many recipes are from the cook book of Angelina Sabella, mother of host-owner Lucien.

Employee Gifts Phil Lehr With Statuette

Kenny Choi, popular waiter at the Steakery in downtown San Francisco, surprised his boss, Phil Lehr, with a handsome gift when he returned from visiting his family in Hong Kong, China. His parents, who employ skilled craftsmen to create objects of art, made a brass statuette of Lehr's trademark bull and mounted it on a beautifully - patterned, polished marble base . . . Doug Young, general manager of the International Inn restaurant, South San Francisco, is an expert banquet arranger and will assist you in planning your parties. From Spring bridal parties to graduation celebrations, the "inn" can accommodate groups up to 250 persons for buffets or dinners . . . The pizzas that come out of the ovens of Enrico Romano, owner of Romano's Italian restaurant in Pacifica's picturesque Rockaway Beach, are always piping hot — and literally smothered in a sea of delicacies (cheese, anchovies, salami, mushrooms, etc.). That's because Enrico takes great pride in his product, and oversees the making of every pizza, large, medium or small.

Jefferson Hi Active In Ecology Task

Ecology, the relationship between the environment and living things, seems to be on everyone's mind.

Ecology is the theme of the National Teach-In on April 22. The object of the teach-in is to make people aware, especially young people, of the grave state of our environment at present.

Jefferson High School has passed the state of talking in their teach-in.

Jefferson in addition to a comprehensive program envolving films, speakers, and information about ecology, is taking up arms against pollution in Daly City and surrounding areas. The students will go out and actually try to cope with the ecological problems which so effect our lives.

The students of Jefferson High School plan a week of Ecological relevance. The week will begin Monday, April 20, with an all out effort to make the campus ecologically stable. All refuse collected by students will be sent to recycling plants. Tuesday, April 21, will be a day of art and literary display pertaining to the subject of Ecology. All exhibits will be submitted by Jeff students. They will then be viewed by students in their social studies classes. There will also be a book display and sale of books concerning ecology in the library.

Wednesday of Ecology Week will be a day of field work. All students will report to their first period classes where they will undertake a project. This project will have been planned weeks in advance. Some of the projects include cleaning beaches, streets and highways, viewing pollution at various cites, analizing polluted creeks, and nature hikes.

Colma Marine Viet Victim

Marine Lance A. Deroo of Colma has been killed in action during combat in Vietnam, the Department of Defense announced last week.

The 19-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Cyril Howard Deroo, 8 Louvaine Place, joined the Marine Corps last July and was scheduled for rotation back to the United States next month.

In a letter received by his mother on the day the family was informed of his death, the former Westmoor High School student said he wanted to go back to college under the VA program upon his discharge.

He was employed by the A & W Drive-in restaurant in Daly City and attended College of San Mateo at the time he entered the Marines.

Firm Lists SSF Lessee

Bothin Real Estate Company has announced consumation of another lease for its South San Francisco Industrial Subdivision. Manning's, Inc. of San Francisco and Labatt, Ltd.-owned purveyor of institutionally prepared foods, will house its Bay Area distribution and cold storage facilities in approximately 30,000 square feet of Bothin's soon to be completed 70,000 square feet of office and warehouse building on Lowrie Avenue.

Negotiations provided for a specially engineered 6000-square-foot freezer to be built into the building accommodating the production of frozen prepared foods at Manning's kitchens in Oregon. Their relocation should be complted by June 1.

This is one of three leases executed during March committing more than 60,000 square feet in two Bothin buildings containing a total of 105,000 square feet. The other tenancies are Tarkett Western, Inc. and C. Lloyd Johnson Co., Inc.

Man Crushed At Airport

Nicklie Horton, 57, of Fremont, was crushed to death shortly before 8 a.m. yesterday in a freak accident at the Pan American Airways maintenance base at International Airport.

Coroner Paul B. Jensen said Horton, a Pan Am mechanic, was directing a truck that was backing up to a loading platform, when he was caught between the truck and the structure.

The driver was identified only as a Harold Hayes.

Horton was dead on arrival at Peninsula Hospital.

His wife, Audrey, was notified.

Thornton Beach 'Hermit' Hunted

Sheriff's deputies today were searching for the Hermit of Thornton Beach.

On Friday, Carl E. Copley, 57, of 832 Maddox Drive, Colma, telephoned the sheriff's office he has seen an old man, apparently living on an embankment above a beach about two miles north of the Thornton State Beach park several times recently. He said the man fled when he approached, and Copley reported he was worried about the man's safety.

Deputy John Cooper reported he met Copley and Park Ranger Michael Johnson of Half Moon Bay late yesterday morning.

Ranger Johnson drove his Jeep about two miles north along the beach, and parked near a sand dune.

Sure enough, Cooper reported, he could see an old man wearing green clothing about 40 yards above the beach. When he began to walk towards the man, the "hermit" disappeared over the edge of the embankment. When he reached the top, Cooper reported the man had disappeared.

The three men searched the area for almost a half an hour, but no trace of the hermit was found. Cooper reported they found what appeared to be his abode in a clump of brush with a piece of clear plastic covering used as a roof. Hundreds of cans were scattered about.

Copley said he thinks he has seen the old man on several occasions since last summer.

Pacifica Man Collapses, Dies

Kenneth Richard DeVieau, 35, of 575 Arguello Boulevard, Pacifica, collapsed in his garage while working on his car April 8, and was prounced dead on arrival at Mary's Help Hospital in Daly City a short time later, the coroner's office reported.

DeVieau, an appliance repairman, was working with William Coggins of 1183 Cerevantes way, Pacific, when he collapsed. DeVieau leaves his wife, Lois, and two daughters, 7 and 9.

BURGLARY

A burglary of a restaurant in San Bruno at 1700 El Camino Real netted the thief $469 in cash.

Police said there were no signs of forced entry either on the building, or the safe from where the money was taken.

The incident occurred sometime April 5, police said.

TANFORAN PARK Shopping Center is now well past the halfway mark. The two-story climate controlled mall is expected to open in the fall of this year. Pictured above is one of the project's five hundred workmen as he ties the reinforcing steel for the second-story floor. Ernest Hahn Company, contractors of the new shopping complex, recently poured the entire second floor and are well on the way to placing the structural steel for for the roof. The $20 million two-story center will open for business this fall in San Bruno.

The Small Change Club

The most non-exclusive savings club in the world. All you need to join is a $5 opening deposit. There are no minimum deposits required, no stuffy lounges, no special phone hook-ups with your office. It's just a way of saving your change and earning interest on it. (Min. interest paid is 25¢.)

Up,up,up and away! A colorful ceramic balloon change bank is yours free. You can drop your loose change in the balloon every night. Then, deposit the change saved in the balloon each month (or as often as you wish) and the interest will make your small change go up, up, up into big change.

We're an equal opportunity saver. We welcome savers of any age and any size. Dad can put the balloon bank on his dresser for his small change. Mom can have one of her own or save her small change in a joint account with Dad. Junior should have one all to himself. So get your Small Change Club Membership now. We are limiting the membership to the first 15,000,000 Californians.

Big savers can rise to the occasion, too. We have many large change plans which earn the maximum interest the law allows. There are 4½% First Bankregular Savings Accounts and 5% First Bankspecial Passbook Accounts. Our Certificates of Deposit pay 5% to 7½%, depending on the amount invested and the length of time. A Puerto Rico Main Dish That Will Not Strain The Family Budget

Visitors to Puerto Rico are enchanted by the colorful, uniquely spiced dishes of the island. Many of these dishes, they've found, can be easily duplicated in American homes with stateside ingredients.

Our recipe for Pollo en Salsa Naranjas (chicken in orange sauce) is an example of an easy Puerto Rican main dish that will neither strain the budget nor seem too "foreign" to tasters unfamiliar with Caribbean food.

Saute thrifty broiler - fryers then simmer in a sauce made from orange juice (of course), canned tomato sauce with mushrooms and crushed pineapple seasoned with allspice, cinnamon, mustard and rum. Most sweet - sour sauces, incidentally, are based on a combination of pineapple and tomato.

Garnish the chicken attractively with orange slices and serve with rice (a curried rice mix would be expecially festive). The spicy main dish calls for rather bland side dishes like a molded avocado salad and corn muffins.

For dessert make a fancy ice cream bombe: chill a mold or mixing bowl then line with softened chocolate or coffee ice cream. Work fast. Freeze the mold until very hard, then pack the center with slightly softened butter pecan ice cream and freeze until serving time. Unmold, garnish with a ruffle of whipped cream from a can and chocolate curls.

POLLO EN SALSA NARANJAS
(Chicken in Orange Sauce)

2 broiler - fryers (2 pounds each), halved or quartered
1-3 cup buttery flavor oil or pure vegetable oil
1 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon cornstarch
1 teaspoon sugar
⅛ teaspoon ground allspice
⅛ teaspoon ground cinnamon
⅛ teaspoon dry mustard
¼ cup orange juice
1 can (8 ounces) tomato sauce with mushrooms
1 can (8-¼ ounces) crushed pineapple, undrained
2 tablespoons rum
1 chicken bouillon cube, crumbled
4 unpeeled orange slices, halved

In skillet brown chicken in oil; sprinkle with ½ teaspoon salt. Pour off fat. Combine cornstarch, sugar, allspice, cinnamon, mustard and remaining ½ teaspoon salt; blend in orange juice. Stir in tomato sauce with mushrooms, pineapple, rum and bouillon cube; pour over chicken. Simmer, covered, 40 minutes. Place orange slices on chicken; baste with sauce. Simmer, covered, 10 minutes more. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Merriment Of Fiesta For Table

The all-out merriment of an Italian fiesta is so contagious that it can dissolve the bad weather blues in a flash of sunshine. If you're suffering from a long winter, gather a few friends and think of the swallows returning to sunny Capistrano, and serve this authentic all-Italian menu.

Minestrone Milano
Main Dish Antipasto
Spaghetti with Red Clam Sauce
Tossed Greens with Italian Dressing
Garlic Bread
Rum Cake
Espresso

MINESTRONE MILANO

1 can (11½ ounces) condensed bean with bacon soup
1 can (10 ¾ ounces) condensed minestrone
2 soup cans water
Parmesan cheese

In saucepan, combine soups and water. Heat; stir now and then. Pass Parmesan cheese to sprinkle on servings. 4 to 6 servings.

SPAGHETTI WITH RED CLAM SAUCE

¼ cup minced onion
¼ cup minced celery
1 clove garlic, crushed
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 can (10¾ ounces) condensed tomato soup
½ cup water
1 can (7½ ounces) minced clams, drained
1 tablespoon chopped parsley
2 teaspoons vinegar
½ teaspoon oregano
Cooked spaghetti

Cook onion, celery, and garlic in butter until tender. Add remaining ingredients, except spaghetti. Cover; cook over low heat 20 minutes; stir often. Serve over cooked spaghetti. Makes 4 servings.

QUICK TIPS:

Main Dish Antipasto: Arrange a plattter with assorted Italian cold cuts, Provolone, and sliced Mozzarella cheese, stuffed eggs, anchovies, onions, and green and red peppers.

Rum Cake: Bake a yellow cake mix in a greased ovenproof 8-cup bowl. Cool completely. Slice crosswise into 4 pieces. Prepare 1 package custard mix and add ½ cup each finely chopped mixed candied fruits and chopped toasted almonds. Sprinkle each cake layer with 2 tablespoons light rum and spread with part of custard mixture. Reshape in bowl and chill overnight. Frost with sweetened whipped cream just before serving. Serves 6.

An Italian Dinner You Can Enjoy

For a satisfying Italian dinner take a leaf from Campbell's Great Restaurants Cookbook. You don't have to journey to St. Louis to enjoy Tony Bommarito's award-winning chicken dinner. The book gives you an easy home verson.

Chicken alla Creme
Alla Tony's
Butter Spaghetti
Broccoli Vinaigrette
Vanilla Ice Cream with Nesselrode Sauce
Cappucino Milk

CHICKEN ALLA CREMA ALL TONY'S

2 chicken breasts, split, skinned, boned
Salt, pepper
1-3 cup butter
1½ cups sliced fresh mushrooms
2 tablespoons orange juice
1 teaspoon grated orange rind
1 can (10½ ounces) condensed cream of chicken soup

Sprinkle chicken with salt and pepper. Heat butter in a skillet and brown chicken quickly on both sides. Add mushrooms and saute until mushrooms wilt. Add remaining ingredients and simmer until chicken is cooked, about 15 minutes. Serves four.

Duxelles Variations Can Create Haute Cuisine Enjoyable On A Low-Fat Diet

Duxelles, in the language of French chefs, is a mixture of finely chopped mushrooms, onions or shallots and seasonings, used as a sauce, stuffing or garnish for meat, poultry or fish. It is pronounced "doo - sell."

According to larousse gastronomique, there are two possible origins of the name duxelles: (1) that it is dervied from Uxel, a small town of the Coles-du-Nord or (2) that it was created for the Marquis d'Uxelles.

A duxelles variation adding celery and green pepper to the classic minced mushroom mixture makes this savory stuffing for roasted beef tenderloin. A pocket cut in the beef is filled with the duxelles and secured with skewers and cord. When cut after roasting, the filling appears as a ribbon through each steak slice.

Mushroom - Stuffed Beef is just a sample of the haute cuisine which may be enjoyed along with the nutritional benefits of a low - saturated - fat diet. That's because corn oil margarine is used in its preparation.

While most vegetable oils are beneficial on a low - saturated - fat diet, scientific studies over a ten-year period show that none is more effective than corn oil in lowering cholesterol. Fleischmann's Margarine is made from 100 per cent corn oil, over half of which is in liquid form.

Designed to help you plan menus and prepare food for the low - saturated - fat diet, is the lavishly illustrated 48-page booklet, "Dietary Control of Cholesterol." It explains the how's and why's of the low - saturated - fat diet and includes model menus, exchange lists and more than 75 recipes for soups, main dishes, vegetables, salads, sandwiches, dessert and bread.

Mushroom - Stuffed Beef, which makes 12 servings, is elegant company fare. You might preface the meal with clear consomme, or start with a green salad tossed with oil and vinegar dressing. Broiled Tomatoes (recipe follows) and broccoli spears might accompany the main course, along with rolls Lemon Cake (recipe follows) is and corn oil margarine. Tangy suggested for dessert.

MUSHROOM STUFFED BEEF

- 4 pounds beef tenderloin or sirloin
- ¼ cup (½ stick) Fleischmann's Margarine
- 1 pound fresh mushrooms, cleaned and chopped
- ½ cup chopped celery
- ½ cup chopped onion
- ¼ cup chopped green pepper
- 1 teaspoon salt
- ⅛ teaspoon pepper
- ⅛ teaspoon rubbed sage
- ⅛ teaspoon ground thyme
- 2 tablespoons flour salt and pepper

Have butcher cut a pocket in beef or use a long knife to make a slit at widest end of tenderloin. Extend slit down full length of loin, being careful not to cut through sides of the beef.

Melt Fleischmann's Margarine in skillet. Add mushrooms; brown. Add celery, onion, green pepper, 1 teaspoon salt, ⅛ teaspoon pepper, sage and thyme; saute until vegetables are tender. Blend in flour. Stuff mixture into pocket of beef.

Fasten open end with meat or poultry skewers and lace with cord or heavy thread. Season beef with salt and pepper. Roast in slow oven (325 degrees F.) about 20 minutes per pound for medium rare or to 150 degrees F. on meat thermometer. Makes 12 servings.

BROILED TOMATOES

- 6 large firm tomatoes, halved
- salt
- ¼ cup (½ stick) Fleischmann's Margarine
- 1 cup freshly - made fine dry bread crumbs
- 3 tablespoons chopped parsley
- 1 clove garlic, minced

Sprinkle tomatoes with salt. Blend together margarine, bread crumbs, parsley and garlic. Make upright cuts part way into tomato halves. Spread crumb mixture over cut surfaces of tomatoes, pressing it gently into the upright cuts. Broil slowly for 30 minutes or until tender and lightly browned. Makes 12 tomato halves.

TANGY LEMON CAKE

- ½ cup (1 stock) Fleischmann's Margarine, softened
- 1 teaspoon lemon extract
- 1 teaspoon vanilla extract
- 1-½ cups sugar
- 2-½ cups sifted cake flour
- 1-½ teaspoons baking powder
- ½ teaspoon salt
- 1-1-3 cups buttermilk
- 4 egg whites (at room temperature)

In a large bowl, cream margarine and extracts. Gradually blend in 1¼ cups sugar. Sift together flour, baking powder and salt. Add to margarine mixture alternately with buttermilk starting and ending with flour. Beat well after each addition. Beat egg whites until foamy, gradually add remaining cup sugar. Beat to stiff peaks; fold into batter. Pour into 2 greased 9-inch layer cake pans. Bake at 350 degrees F. 30 minutes, or until done. Cool 10 minutes, remove from pans and place on wire racks. When cool, fill and frost with a Lemon 7-Minute Frosting. Makes 12 servings.

AND NOW FOR THE LANDSCAPING — Aerial view of Skyline College in San Bruno shows recently completed first phase of construction of the college begun July, 1967. The project, the first phase of which costs $7 million, was designed by Architect John Carl Warnecke of John Carl Warnecke & Associates, San Francisco. Pictured toward the rear are the baseball field, tennis courts, gymnasium, and to the right, science building, beauty school and business school. At bottom left are fine arts and administration building, including the main theatre and temporary library. Next fall, 2,300 day students and 2,500 night students will be enrolled.

ANATOMY OF AN ELECTION — Whatever happened to those good old-fashioned, knockdown, drag out elections? About the only one that seems surprised over the final outcome is this haggard columnist. Everyone else backed the winners — just ask 'em.

Modestly we confide there was never a doubt in our minds who would win although admittedly we gauged the mainstream and altered our course from time to time.

It was a quiet campaign. Oh, there was some hoopla — especially over in Brisbane, because of that last-minute arrest of a candidate on grand theft charges (what's "grand" about theft?). But all in all on the surface a real deady as far as campaigns go.

BUT THEN, WHAT were the issues? Retired councilman Edward J. Dennis backed Louis J. Papan to the hilt and couldn't very well knock the city's voting record. And in the other camp, councilman Frank Pacelli supported Dino H. Tonelli and relied on what Pacelli called "organization."

There was a lot going on below the surface, however. All the political frills and hoopla was restricted to this never-never world. Councilman Michael R. DeBernardi running on his past record of 16 years with the city was, at the very least, ignored by the official family and their friends, and at the most verbally blasted for his refusal to communicate with his fellow councilmen.

There were too few issues brought out. Unlike other years, not one of the ten campaigners in Daly City rallied around the "racial unfairness" platform. Only a week before election day a Black had been appointed to the county's draft board with the full backing of incumbent councilman Bernard J. Lycett.

From the very beginning of the campaign you could have, as August Conci repeatedly pointed out, "thrown a blanket over the first five." That's how close they were coming into the home stretch. What was even more confusing was the fact that they maintained this position all the way up to 7 a.m. Tuesday morning. It wasn't until shortly before 9 p.m. Tuesday night that seven of the ten got the bad news.

NOW THE POSTERS come down (quickly, it is hoped), the placards disappear from hundreds of windows and the wounds opened up during the preceding three months start to heal. But then, time DOES heal all wounds, they tell me. What's even more important is the fact that our city councils can get back to the job of solving some of the problems beleaguering our cities, rather than consume their waking hours trying to win votes.

Of course, in two short years the thing starts all over again with different players, but in the same ballpark.

SPEAKING OF FRIENDS — The Friends of the Daly City Library is sponsoring their annual Bookfair at the Westlake Shopping Center Mall on May 9. Object is to sell donated books and use the proceeds to buy a useful item for the library that cannot otherwise be bought because the city's budget doesn't cover it. Soooo, get all those old books (paperbacks, hard cover and what-have you) down to your local library or fire station and present them with fanfare to whomever happens to be around. With each donation goes the everlasting thanks of library trustee Gertrude Kendree.

WOULD YOU BELIEVE? There's a political sign on the Longview Drive home of Mr. and Mrs. Al Sereni urging folks to vote for Mario Sereni for councilman Mario is running for the city council all right . . . of Calistoga.

WHAT EVER HAPPENED to that cable TV system that was being installed throughout Daly City? Well, Our Source informs that they (Vista Grande Cable) was informed that things are progressing pretty slow and to inform the city attorney what's happening. Now watch the phone ring off the wall with all sorts of excuses on what the holdup is THIS time.

ABOUT TIME — Contractors for that signal system at the corner of Poncetta Drive and Alemany Avenue have finally (repeat, finally) filled in the holes and cleared away the barricades that toppled over some three months ago, along with the rolls of wiring, from the sidewalk, after several elderly residents almost got zapped by passing cars. Nice work fellas and we sure hated to bother you. But our citizens are more important to us than your old traffic signal!

FLASHY FLASH — Didja hear the Powers-that-be have grounded all the giant 747 jetliners? It's only a temporary move until Fidel Castro makes the runways longer in Cuba, Our Source tells us.

PRESIDENT NIXON has appointed Daly City's Edward Eastman to the San Mateo County draft board at the urging on the recommendation of councilman Bud Lycett and Superior Court Judge Frank Blum. Eastman is the first person ever to be appointed to the board from Daly City . . . and the first Black in the Northern part of the state to get the post.

Don't Need Enemies

Faint praise is worse than no praise at all, especially when coming from a supporter.

One can well imagine the uproar had an opponent of Judge Carswell suggested that he was a dull boy. Suddenly everyone's sense of fairness would have been aroused; associates, teachers and judges would have risen to his defense, and the Judge probably would have been confirmed.

But Senator Roman Hruska was not an enemy of Carswell's. He was a friend. Carswell now knows that with well - meaning friends like this one does not need enemies.

Faint praise is a time - honored political custom. Only rarely is it used as in this case by a well - meaning supporter. Usually it is cruelly employed by men intending to harm rather than help. Political opponents often rise before the crowd, arms around one another and then proceed to carve one another to little pieces with thin niceties. The whole idea gets across - everyone knows the game - and this is known in the trade as being "smiled to death."

The Hruska case was different. Hruska, in a bumbling manner, really thought he was helping Carswell. After Hruska's memorable words, little could be done to save the Judge. His words make this plain, "...even if he were mediocre, there are lots of mediocre judges and people and lawyers. They are entitled to a little representation, aren't they? We can't have all Brandeises, Frankfurters and Cardozos and stuff like that there.

The Hruska gaffe will doubtless go down in history as one of the finest of its kind. Even so, Sen. Russell B. Long, who also thought he was helping Carswell, comes in a close second as a public relations man. Long longed for less brilliant judges, and claimed that "A judge doesn't have to have all that brilliance to satisfy this Senator".

The mechanics of handling the Carswell nomination offered the administration a chance to clear things up. The Senate adjourned for Easter, and senators met the folk back home who had been exposed not only to Hruska's statement but also a lot of other information concerning Carswell. Many returned to Washington wanting to be able to tell their constituents that they had tried to block the nomination but might not have cared too much about success in doing this. When it was first suggested that the nomination be returned to committee, there was a chance for the Administration to piece together sufficient votes to defeat the motion to commit and also to carry Carswell.

What was required was that those who were suffering from constituency pressure vote against Carswell on one or the other motion, but not both, and that they be somewhat evenly divided.

But the Administration seemed to have a "gung ho" attitude respecting any and all motions. So that anything of this kind that might have saved the day was never pieced together.

As Senate votes in many respects are no different from elections, it is easy, after the vote, to claim some kind of meaning or mandate beyond that intended by the voters. In this case, some, including the President, have claimed that it is impossible to elect a Southern conservative justice. But the facts do not seem to sustain this. The Carswell issue was composed of many facets, including the issue of competence. Many senators seemed to have voted against Carswell on the ground that he did not measure up, as suggested by Sentor Hruska, and these senators might well support a highly qualified Southern conservative.

Reading For Everyone!

Reading is for everyone: for the reader of the daily newspaper; for ual; for the housewife with her the mechanic with his tech mancookbook and for her child with his picture book.

Reading, wrote Matthew Arnold, is for the individual with a sense of developing "an inward condition of the mind and the spirit."

"Everyone who knows how to read," Aldous Huxley wrote, "has the power to magnify himself, to multiply the ways in which he exists, to make his life full, significant and interesting."

Thus the small child whose mother took him to the vine - covered library on the grounds of the capitol of Kansas, found in reading a sense of security that developed into poetry depicting Negro life in America. In magnifying himself through reading, Langston Hughes became the voice of his people.

"Reading is to the mind, what exercise is to the body," Joseph Addison wrote in his Tattler, "As by one health is preserved, strengthened, and invigorated; by the other virtue, which is the health of the mind, is kept alive, cherished, and confirmed."

To Thomas Jefferson reading became a way to relax from the problems of running the country. At night he read his Bible, his Shakespeare, his copies of Roman and Greek classics. His reading lead to his revision of the New Testament and to a pleasant exchange of letters with literary critics.

A barrel of books left in a frontier store started Abraham Lincoln on the road to the White House. Books of history and scripts from plays changed a servant who held the horses for gentlemen into the greatest playwright the world has ever known.

Reading a text book sent a mechanic back to college and from there to a brilliant career in automotive engineering. Reading but one book changed Brigham Young from a carpenter's helper to a pioneer leader and city builder. Reading and discussing what he had read altered the course of John Wesley's life and of history. Reading and studying saved John Wesley Powell from disaster in the Colorado River. Reading sparked Henry Ford's imaginaton when he was a paid - laboror and the automobile was not invented.

Reading is for everybody, great or small. The small child, his bigger brother, his father, his mother, his teacher — "He that loves reading has everything within his reach," William Godwin declared. "He has but to desire, and he may possess himself of every species of wisdom to judge and power to perform."

Memorial To A Slain Comrade

By FRANK LA PIERRE
Post-Times Writer

"In death a hero as in life a friend."

The unpretentious plaque is mounted on a wall at the main entrance to the Daly City Police Department.

Under the glass cover is a photo of officer Richard J. Klass, his badge (which has been retired) and the small plaque.

It doesn't say much, as far as plaques are concerned.

Two fellow officers, John Cahill and Don Cubic, used their own money and went out and bought it. They figured it was the very least they could do for a friend.

Chief Roland Petrocchi okayed the plaque and four years after the young officer died with a .38 slug in his gut, the plaque honoring him was secured to the wall.

Ironically, on that same day last week the man who snuffed out Klass' life with the officer's own gun was sentenced to life imprisonment after spending four years at Agnews State Hospital.

Leandro A. Sedeno was being booked into City Jail at 75 Wellington Avenue, Daly City that late spring day four years ago on a charge of indecent exposure.

As the officers were trying to fingerprint him the suspect broke away and fled down Mission Street toward San Francisco.

An all-points bulletin was flashed and officer Klass happened to be patrolling the area and spotted the fugitive.

He chased Sedeno on foot and finally caught him near the San Francisco - Daly City boundary.

During the scuffle, Sedeno grabbed Klass' service revolver and shot him in the stomach.

Officers Tom Culley and James Van Pelt dashed to Klass' aid and wrestled the gun from the suspect but not before another slug whistled past Van Pelt's head.

Meanwhile, the young officer, only a month before his wedding date, was rushed mortally wounded to Mary's Help Hospital.

The slug had hit vital organs, but Klass' determination to live carried him through each day.

"He had a morale problem while lying there day after day," Captain Dave Hansen recalled. "Lt. Tom Culley decided to do something about it."

Comedian Bill Cosby was appearing at the Circle Star Theater and if anyone could lift Klass' spirits it would be the Negro funnyman.

Klass had every record Cosby every made.

"Cosby was most gracious. He agreed to come and visit Klass, but only if there was no publicity," Hansen said. "I've never seen a miracle like the one Cosby performed that day. Klass was very happy."

On June 9, 1966 Richard J. Klass, 24 years old, a veteran of three years in the Daly City police department, died shortly before 9:30 a.m.

His colleagues took him home to St. Helena two days later.

Legislation Is Discussed At Laguna

A group of citizens in Pacifica—whose children of elementary age attend schools in the district of Laguna Salada, met last week to study current legislation under consideration in Sacramento in regard to financing public education.

Called by school board member Sidney Lorvan, the meeting featured presentations and discussions about the CTA Initiative (Proposition 8), the governor's Tax Reform Package, AB 1154, sponsored by the California School Boards Association, and other relevant legislation.

Addressing the group were James Sutton of the CTA, Dr. Russell Kent, San Mateo superintendent of schools, and Joseph Brooks, executive secretary of the California School Boards Association.

Sutton urged support of the CTA-County Supervisors Association jointly sponsored initiative, which has qualified for the June primary election by indicating that its enabling legislation should provide relief for low-wealth districts throughout the state. Several other features of the initiative were presented, including one that would require that the Legislature pass school finance bills henceforth no later than May 30 of any year.

The Laguna Salada District already this year held a number of public meetings. "Other school programs, due to a lack of finances, may be doomed," according to Director of Curriculum Marvin Morganti.

Classroom teachers' salaries in the large coastside district rank near the bottom in comparison to other Bay Area districts, yet class sizes are the largest, he said.

Last year, some 500 citizens of the community, plus teachers, traveled to Sacramento—to hold more than 60 appointments with legislators to influence monetary relief for low-wealth districts.

Superintendent James Brien cautioned the group at the meet that Poposition 8 was an initiative to the legislators for aid to schools and provided for property tax relief but contained no provision for "how the money will be apportioned, or from what sources the revenue will come." "Enabling legislation will have to follow the passage of Proposition 8," commented CTA's Jim Sutton.

According to Joseph Brooks, the CSBA-sponsored bill, introduced as AB 1154, does provide a method of distribution and "simply states a state-wide property tax of $3.00 will bring in 125 million dollars to be reapportioned." "In essence," said Brooks, "this bill would raise money from the low-taxed, high-wealth districts and redistribute it to high-taxed, low-wealth districts."

"Within San Mateo County," said Kent, "there are great inequities in the ability to finance local schools." Comparable tax rates in Pacifica and some Peninsula districts will raise seven times more money "over the hill" than in the Coastside area, where children are plentiful and assessed valuation low.

Kent condemned the governor's tax reform bill, as it related to school financing, saying "it does not correct current inequities and that it merely transfers financial credit from the local level to the state level."

Drug Abuse Top Problem

Drug abuse is the number one problem facing the schools in the Jefferson High School District in Daly City and Pacifica, according to the members of the Assistant Principals-Administration Council.

Dr. Floyd Gonella, assistant superintendent for education services, submitted that viewpoint in a recent memorandum to Thomas Mohr, chairman of the district's Planning Council.

Dr. Gonella also relayed the group's beliefs that:

—Immediate control of drug abuse is under their direct responsibility and "this must be handled according to the needs of the individual school and the immediate on-the-spot situation.

—Total staff and community involvement must be obtained in order to develop a positive comprehensive program concerning drug abuse. A program involving curriculum and preventative programs should be established on a district-wide basis.

There currently is a Daly City drug abuse committee.

School's Trouble Spurs Heavy Talk

Three weeks ago, during discussion on Daly City's Serramonte High School, Jefferson District Trustee Jane Powell chided proposed encounter groups, outside training assistance and a full-time district human relations director.

Last week, Mrs. Jan Ynostroza spoke up in favor of the Serramonte student-faculty-administration proposals that followed several campus incidents last month.

Mrs. Ynostroza, stating she represented "another segment" of the community said, "To simply state that 'encounter groups never got anyone a diploma or job' and that 'race relations need not be discussed in the schools' is leading our young people down the primrose path of our modern day technological world—to awaken abruptly and question us of our values."

She added it is "imperative we deal in human beings and become aware of each others feelings and needs."

Mrs. Powell objected to the use of her statements out of context, which actually were:

"Encounter groups and rap sessions never qualified anyone for a job, or a diploma, or made it possible to pass an S.A.T. test. This can only be accomplished through education;

"There should be no need to discuss race, political or religious differences to such a degree as to perpetuate clashes of personality."

Mrs. Powell in her statement indicated she thought the Serramonte school and the Jefferson High School District administration were qualified to cope with the problems.

Mrs. Ynostroza, on the other hand, called for the assistance.

"We need the aid of consultants, desperately, so that objective analysis can be put into action and our own emotions do not hinder us. The expense of outside assistance cannot be measured in dollars and cents, but as monies to be spent by an exceptional fine school district that continues to show concern and the willingness to meet the needs of the human element."

Mrs. Powell stated, "It is the feeling of the parents that teachers are trained to be professionals in their subject field and so they are being used unfairly and judged unjustly, in many instances, when put into the position of leader in rap sessions."

She pointed out that "emotions of teen-agers vary" and "it takes many years to qsalify in how to deal with human emotions in all situations, and this is usually done on a one-to-one basis."

It is "felt," she added, "that most teachers know their limitatiions and feel unqualified to deal with emotions in a 50-minute or less period situation encompassing 20 or 25 students."

Parents, Mrs. Powell declared, "resent the interference of unqualified people in dealing with emotions and usurping their authority."

She acknowledged that "everyone can certainly benefit by programs to learn how to relate one to another, but the success of these programs will depend on a willingness to learn, if indeed, there is a need. No amount of prodding will make anyone change. This can only be found within one's self."

She said the best liaison, to her way of thinking, between the community and the school "is the product — the educated student."

The principal is the best qualified person to look up to for guidance, Mrs. Powell said.

Mrs. Ynostroza stated that the high schools and colleges each year turn out students with diplomas and glorified degrees for high salaried positions, but until each of us can truly feel and become totally honest with our brothers and sisters, our so-called values and status symbols deserve to be questioned."

She admitted that "true, in a sense of the word . . . encounter groups never got anyone a job or diploma, but growing intellectually is certainly as important as an 'A' in world history or biology class. One cannot receive a report card for intellectual perception."

Mrs. Ynostroza spoke of experiencing the "frustrations and the uneasiness" at Serramonte.

"It takes time for a deep wound to heal," she pointed out. "The hostilities and fears have been muffled, but still remain."

BIDS CALLED

South San Francisco councilmen have introduced a resolution approving specifications, authorizing work and calling for bids on a path lighting system at the Westborough 10-Acre Park.

Who Is To Pay For Relocation Of S.S.F. Pipeline?

A pipeline running beneath the Westborough Boulevard improvement project right-of-way in South San Francisco needs to be relocated or protected.

There is a question as to who will pay for the work.

John Noonan, city attorney, said, "It is a minor item moneywise, but of some consequence in principle."

Noonan, on April 5, received authorization from the councilmen to work the answer out with the attorney for Westborough County Water District, Ross Stromberg.

So as not to delay the project, both attorneys have proposed an agreement enabling work to proceed while at the same time providing for a determination of the liability for the cost of installing a protective facility.

A protective facility has been designed by Tronoff Engineers. It has been approved by the water district. Estimated cost of the facility is $2500.

Here is the situation. The top of the pipeline at or near the west line of the boulevard project is less than three feet below grade.

Model Senate At Jefferson High Planned

Jefferson High School, 6996 Mission Street, Daly City, will host its eleventh annual Model Senate starting April 27. Approximately 70 students will reenact the process of deciding what laws our country needs. Each student will debate and vote as their real Senator would.

On the twenty-seventh the Senate will begin in Room 507. The expected highlights of the program will be April 29, when the Senate will conduct an investigative hearing on the controversial issue of busing to achieve quality education in an integrative setting.

Prominent board members and educators are expected to attend. The Model Senate will close May 1 and will feature spontaneous debate over surprise bills by each party. Visitors are welcome for any session. For further information, phone Jefferson High School.

Assessment Resolutions

South San Francisco councilmen have introduced four resolutions necessary to establish a South Maple Avenue-South Canal Street relief pump and storm drainage assessment district.

Work will include construction of reinforced concrete storm drainage pipes, catch basins, manholes and appurtenances in South Maple Avenue from South Canal Street south about 750 feet.

Also in South Canal Street from a point about 300 feet west of South Maple Avenue to South Linden Avenue, and in South Linden Avenue from South Canal Street south about 160 feet.

The relief pump station will be at the southeast corner of South Canal Street and South Maple Avenue.

SSF Sergeant Participates In Exercise

FRANKFURT, Germany — U.S. Air Force Staff Sergeant Gerald G. Nichols, son of Mrs. Rowena Delvcihi of 2860 Tipperary Avenue, South San Francisco, participated in Exercise Arctic Express, a NATO training exercise just concluded in Norway.

Sergeant Nicholas, a communications specialist at Rhein-Main AB, Germany, was a member of the Air Force Communications Service (AFCS) element that provided essential support for the multi-nation operation that involved transporting some 5,000 troops and equipment to the Tromoe area of Norway.

The cold weather maneuver tested air and sea deployment of NATO's Allied Command Europe mobile force and included personnel of the United States, Canada, Britain, Italy and Norway.

He is assigned to a unit of AFCS which provides communications and air traffic control for the USAF.

The sergeant, a 1952 graduate of Sanger (Calif.) Union High School, has served in Vietnam. His wife, Lillian, is the daughter of Mrs. Suzanna Brown of Federal Way, Wash.

I love you Park Pacifica

You're everything I ever wanted...and never had. Like an Equestrian School I can walk to every day. Not one with just a show ring to ride around. But bridle paths as well. Thirty miles of them. And lovely green hills which slope gently down to the blue of the Pacific. Hills which will always stay green because they're part of a huge Regional Park which is planned as a backdrop. So you will always be perfect for a picnic, or a stroll, or a romp with my children.

Of course Park Pacifica II, next to your Country Club life . . . I love your suburban convenience. You're only 25 freeway minutes from the biggest downtown department stores. And you're less than a block away from the new Park Pacifica Schools. And the lovely new regional shopping center, just over the hill. Close enough for me to send the children for their ice creams. But out of sight, so the breathtaking view of the lovely Linda Mar Valley speckled with the rooftops of hundreds of beautiful new homes remains unobstructed.

But Park Pacifica, I'm proudest of all about my lovely new home. With its exciting sunken living room. And its frightfully formal dining room. And its intriguing breakfast/cocktail terrace overlooking the valley. And its sumptuous master suite. And everything.

Park Pacifica, I could go on and on, but I simply don't wish to sound biased. If people want to know more, they'll just have to discover you like I did. By taking the Coast Highway One south to Linda Mar Boulevard in Pacifica and turning east to those irresistible model homes furnished by the movie stars' decorator, C. Tony Pereira.

Nell Norton

Sugar 'n' Spice

Good morning, good cooks.

The search for new recipes goes on and on. The pleasure of testing and tasting the new recipes continues. For as any one who has to watch the calories can tell you, there is nothing more delightful than eating some forbidden delicacy and being able to say, "I have to, it's part of my job."

In the line of duty last week I made two terrific desserts. And, also in the line of duty, ate generous amounts to assure myself that they were up to the standards of you good cooks—they were.

Mrs. Mary Whalen who lives in Conoga Park, California, sent me both these dandies and I'm most grateful to her.

CHOCOLATE-TOP COAMEAL BARS

1 cup butter or margarine
½ cup brown sugar
½ cup white sugar
2 egg yolks
1 cup sifted flour
1 cup rolled oats
(Bake 350-degree oven for 20 minutes)

Cream the cup of butter or margarine with the half cup each white and brown sugar. Beat in the two egg yolks. Add the cup each flour and rolled oats. Mix well. Spread in a lightly buttered 9x13 - inch pan. Bake in 350-degree oven for 20 minutes. Cool 10 minutes.

While the dough is baking prepare the topping.

TOPPING

1 large milk chocolate bar, (6½ ounces)
2 Tablespoons butter
½ cup sliced almonds
Melt the large bar of milk chocolate in a double boiler with the two tablespoons butter.

When the cookie layer has cooled for 10 minutes, spread the melted chocolate over the top. Sprinkle with the half cup sliced almonds. Allow to finish cooling and cut into bars.

This next recipe is from a dessert that has everything going for it. It's attractive, delicious and will puzzle your guests if they try to guess what's in it. Everyone thought it had ice cream, but such is not the case. A combination of whipped cream and cream cheese create the illusion.

Mary's recipe calls for a cup of chopped nuts, due to a necessity of the moment, I substituted cut up marshmallows, and it was delicious. The next time I make it I think I'll use both the nuts and marshmallows. Why not?

PINEAPPLE DESSERT

Butter a large (9x13x2-inch) pan. Sprinkle generously with graham cracker crumbs. Set aside and continue:
4 eggs, well beaten
1½ cups sugar
6 Tablespoons melted butter
1 large can crushed drained pineapple, about 20 ounces
1 cup chopped nuts and-or cut up marshmallows
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 small packages cream cheese
½ pint whipping cream

In a large mixing bowl beat the four eggs well, add the one and one half cups sugar, beat again. Mix in the six tablespoons melted butter and the well drained crushed pineapple. Stir in the nuts, and-or the marshmallows. (I used large marshmallows and cut them up. They seem to absorb the joices and flavors better than the small ones. But suit yourself on this minor matter.)

Whip together the two small packages cream cheese and the half pint whipping cream. Fold into the pineapple mixture and pour over the crumbs in large pan. Sprinkle more crumbs on top. Freeze. Serves 12

As much as I love desserts, I do serve other things in my home occasionally. Just recently my mother - in - law gave me a recipe for a chicken casserole and it is great. It's quite inexpensive, for I found that one large chicken breast, which I wrapped in foil and baked in the oven, gave me two cups diced chicken.

CHICKEN TETRAZZINI

8 ounces vermicelli, cooked
1 can cream of mushroom soup
¾ cup milk
1-3 cup diced pimento (2 ounce jar)
1-3 cup minced green pepper
2 Tablespoons finely chopped onion salt and pepper to taste
1 cup shredded processed cheese

Cook the vermicelli as directed on package.

Combine the can mushroom soup with the three-fourths cup milk, one-third each pimento and mince green pepper and the two tablespoons finely chopped onion. Stir in half the shredded processed cheese and add salt and pepper to taste.

Mix the cooked vermicelli with the chicken - mushroom combination and pour into a 2-quart casseole. Sprinkle with the remaining half cup cheese. Bake in 350-degree oven for about 30 minutes or until bubbly hot.
Serves 6 generously

Riley Atkins Of Jeff B-A Winner

Jefferson High School's Reley Atkins, son of Mrs. Gertrude Atkins of Daly City, came in first in the Bank of America Achievement Awards Program.

He competed with representatives from 15 other San Mateo high schools in the field of Liberal Arts.

This is the initial step toward winning the first prize, $1,000.00, at the final interviews on May 7 at the Hilton Hotel in San Francisco, where he will compete with students from Redwood City, Palo Alto, San Rafael, and San Francisco. All participants in this phase are assured of receiving at least $250.00.

Bank of America Achievement Awards Programs have been in existence since 1948; however, they came to this area in 1950 and were extended to the whole state in 1952. This year approximately 8,200 certificates, 2,600 plaques, and $158,000 in cash will be awarded to senior high school students throughout California. It is exciting that in 1970 Daly City shares in all of this through one of Jefferson's finest students.

Riley has not only excelled in the academic area of his high school but also in the extra-curricular. He has served as student body president, senior class president, life member of the California Scholarship Association, drum major of the marching band, and he is now serving as public relations director for the student body. Last year he served as Jefferson's representative to the president's classroom in Washington, D. C.

Other Jefferson winners included Daniel O. Gong, Arlene D. King, Richard L. Lee, and James L. Lemke.

Daniel O. Gong will use his $300 state scholarship at the University of California at Berkeley. Dan will pursue a chemistry major at the university beginning next fall. His goal is to one day become a research chemist. Dan participates in many of Jeff's activities including the chess club, his favorite. Dan is also involved in Daly City's Cancer Control Month, serving as a volunteer. Dan has earned the honor of being Co-Valedictorian of the graduating class of 1970.

Another $2,000 state scholarship winner is Arlene D. King. Arlene is an accomplished violinist who hopes to use her scholarship at Stanford University. Arlene has been an outstanding member of Jeff's orchestra for the four years she has spent at the high school. She hopes to major in music at Stanford and naturally, join the orchestra. Arlene has served in the past as an officer of her class, and along with Dan, is the co-valedictorian of her graduating class.

Richard J. Lee is the recipient of a junior College Reserve Scholarship.

In the fall, Richard will attend either Skyline College or CSM for one year. He then plans to transfer to a four-year college in the Bay Area where he will major in engineering. Richard is a very active young man on the Jefferson campus. He is presently serving as student body treasurer, and in the fall he served as the commissioner of elections for the Jefferson student body. Richard has also participaed in he many activities of the high school, and at present he is chairman of Jefferson' volunteers for the American Cancer Society. Richard holds the second highest grade point average in his class, and is thus salutatorian of the graduating class.

James L. Lemke is also a holder of a Junior College Reserve Scholarship. Jim is very active in the social science activities of Jefferson. He is currently in the process of planning Ecology Week to be held this month at the high school. Jim received the Bank of America certificate in the subject of English. He hopes to use his literary talents to one day become a writer.

Trio Takes Money, Cab

A Yellow Cab Company driver was relieved of his cab and money by two men and a woman in Daly City shortly after midnight Saturday.

John Beale, 24, a driver for the Daly City based company, told police the trio entered his cab on Mission Street near the corner of Hillside Boulevard.

After directing him to a Bayshore district address, one of the men pulled a gun and the woman pressed a knife against him and ordered Beale to hand over his money.

Mix-And-Fix Desserts, Sauces And Entrees Get An Assist From The Brewers

Mix-and-fix desserts, ready-made sauces, heat-and-serve entrees — without these modern convenience foods, fast-and-fancy dinners many times would be impossible for busy homemakers.

Now, a new recipe booklet, "The Secret Ingredient in Cooking," goes one important step further. Its recipes begin with convenience foods and, with some easy wizardry, turn them into fascinating, very special dishes.

The "secret ingredient?" Beer.

A classic ingredient in cookery, beer lends a subtle savor to meats, a mouth-watering tang to soups, a delicate flavor to fish and shellfish, a perfect buoyancy and spice to breads.

The secrets are contained in a colorful 48-page recipe booklet, just introduced by the United States Brewers Association. It includes more than 60 recipes for appetizers, hearty soups, main dishes and entrees, breads, cakes and desserts. In addition, there's a handy guide to storing and serving beer for meals and for parties.

To receive a free copy of "The Secret Ingredients in Cooking," write to the United States Brewers Association, 535 Fifth Avenue, New York, New York 10017. Meanwhile, here are three recipes illustrating the booklet's combined purpose of flavor and convenience: Chicken in the Corn, Shrimp in Curried Rice, Meatball Stroganoff on Noodles. All are proof that the noble brew does as well on the range as it does in the tankard.

CHICKEN IN THE CORN

1 (12 oz.) package corn muffin mix
1-3 cup beer
1-3 cup milk
1 egg
½ teaspoon poultry seasoning creamed chicken
1 (10 oz.) package frozen peas
¼ cup chopped pimiento

Prepare corn muffin mix according to package directions, using beer, milk and egg. Stir in poultry seasoning. Spoon batter into a well greased 8-inch ring mold. Bake in a preheated oven at 400F. for 20 to 25 minutes or until firm. Unmold on a warm platter. While ring is baking, heat frozen chicken and cook peas as directed on packages. Add most of peas and pimiento to chicken and spoon chicken mixture into the center of the cornbread ring. Use remaining peas as garnish around ring. Makes 6 servings.

SHRIMP IN CURRIED RICE

2 (6 0z.) packages curried rice mix
1 cup beer
1½ cups water
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
2 (12 oz.) packages frozen shrimp marinara

Prepare rice mix according to package directions using beer, water and margarine. When rice is tender and liquid has been absorbed, pack rice into a lightly oiled 6-cup ring mold. Place mold in 300F oven to stay hot. Heat frozen shrimp dish as directed on package. When ready to serve, loosen edge of rice ring with a sharp knife, place dish over ring mold and invert. Tap pan to loosen rice and remove mold. Fill center of rice ring with hot shrimp mixture. Makes 6 servings.

MEATBALL STROGANOFF ON NOODLES

1½ pounds lean ground beef
1 egg
1 tablespoon instant minced onion
1 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons shortening
1 (1½ oz.) envelope beef stroganoff mix
½ cup beer
1 cup (½ pint) dairy sour cream

Combine beef, egg, onion, salt; shape into 1-inch meatballs. Brown meatballs on all sides in hot shortening. Drain off excess fat. Sprinkle stroganoff mix over meatballs; pour on beer. Simmer for 10 minutes, stirring occasionally. Fold in sour cream. Reheat but do not boil. Serve meatballs over buttered noodles. Makes 6 servings.

KEEP HOT FOODS HOTS

Cook foods promptly, after thawing. Always cook all pork and all poultry thoroughly. Use a meat thermometer for your best guide to doneness in meat and pountry. Follow cooking instructions on processed meat or poultry product labels. Serve foods immediately after cooking; don't leave them sitting out at room temperature. Reheat leftovers thoroughly before serving again.

Muffins Go Well With Many Foods

Freshly baked muffins seems to go perfectly with many different foods — the hot casserole of summer, the ham dinners of spring, and even the fresh fruit salads of summer. Of course, there are many ways to add special glamour to the basic muffins we are familiar with.

When baked Hawaiian-style, muffins become filled with pineapple and coconut, then, even topped with a cherry. While baking, they take on a festive appearance which makes them attractive enough to brighten up any meal.

These Hawaiian-style muffins have a secret ingredient — Nut Bread Mix. As with any mix, the batter is simple to make. Then, instead of spooning the batter into a bread pan, put it into muffin tins, lined with colorful paper liners. Then, top each with a cherry and bake. Soon you will have hot muffins ready to serve.

To add an extra touch, why not arrange the muffins in a basket lined with a colorful napkin. Then, they become the center of attraction at any meal.

HAWAIIAN STYLE MUFFINS

1 can (8½ oz.) crushed pineapple, drain well, reserve syrup
1 package (17 oz.) Pillsbury Nut Bread Mix
1 Egg
½ cup flaked coconut
¼ cup sugar
Masaschino cherries, if desired

Line Muffin cups with paper liners or grease and flour the bottoms. In small mixing bowl, combined ½ cup syrup (or add enough water to make ½ cup), dry bread mix and egg. Beat 50 to 70 strokes by hand. Fill muffin cups about 1-3 full of batter. Combine ½ cup drained pineapple, coconut and sugar. Spoon rounded teaspoon over center of batter and top with maraschino cherry. Bake at 350 degrees for 20 to 25 minutes before removing from pan.

Tip: If you can't bake all the muffin batter at one time, cover the bowl until your muffin cups are free to use again. Use batter within 45 minutes.

High Altitude: 5200 feet. Bake at 375 degrees.

A Dash Of Wine, Slow Simmering

With the help of convenience foods, a dash of wine and slow simmering, Easy-Do Beef Stew rates high with both the cook and the diners. California Sherry, the dessert wine with a nutlike flavor, and condensed onion soup are the agents which season the meat so subtly while the stew simmers gently. Frozen peas and carrots save time and effort too without sacrificing quality.

Like many stews, this recipe is even better reheated and served a day later. In either case, glasses of Burgundy or another red dinner wine produced in California would add a festive atmosphere when served as the accompanying beverage.

EASY-DO BEEF STEW
(Serves 5 or 6)

2 pounds beef stew meat, cubed
Flour
2 tablespoons salad oil
1 (10½ oz.) can condensed onion soup
1 cup water
½ cup California Sherry
Salt and pepper
1 (10 oz.) package frozen peas and carrots, cooked and drained

Dredge meat with flour. Heat oil in a Dutch oven or other heavy saucepan; brown meat nicely on all sides. Add soup, water, wine, salt and pepper. Cover and simmer gently, stirring frequently, for about 2 hours, or until meat is tender. Add a little more water if necessary toward end of cooking time to thin gravy. Shortly before serving, add cooked peas and carrots; heat thoroughly. Serve with buttered noodles which have been liberally sprinkled with grated Parmesan cheese.

Entree Is Always The Mealtime Star–This Time, It's Succulent Oyster

The entree is the star at every mealtime performance. You, as director of the show, are responsible for casting the entree or main dish with the most valuable player in the nutrition story, protein. Start your own tradition as menu director by spotlighting protein in the simplest, tastiest, and easiest casting ever — versatile fish and shellfish. All seafoods provide high-quality protein, vitamins, and minerals, and many are very moderate in cost.

The star performer in today's entree is the succulent oyster. According to Government scientists, oysters provide the best protein available. Oysters are easily and quickly digested, low in fat, and have an abundance of practically all the minerals necessary to good health.

Equally important to audience participation in a mealtime production is good taste, and oysters are renowned for their tender, delicate, delicious flavor.

Scalloped Oysters With Ham, a Bureau of Commercial Fisheries recipe, is an ideal entree for Sunday night supper, casual entertaining, or family fare. Although luscious Pacific oysters are featured in this entree, Eastern oysters, also excellent eating, may be substituted.

This hearty main-dish casserole is flavor-accented with green pepper bits, sherry, and butter; extended with cracker crumbs, and topped with crispy oyster crackers. It is a quick-fix entree needing only 20 to 25 minutes in the oven, and it's ready for the show to begin. You'll be taking curtain calls for your superb direction and creative casting, and repeat performances for a long and successful run are assured.

Pacific oysters are grown and harvested by men who farm the cool coastal waters from Alaska to northern California. The biggest production is centered in the Puget Sound, Gray's Harbor, and Willapa Bay area in Washington state. The oyster beds are carefully chosen and watchfully cultivated during the growth period, and this care results in an excellent product. The oysters are packed in three sizes: medium, small, and extra small. They may be used as they come from the can. A 12-ounce can contains 7 to 9 medium oysters, 10 to 13 small oysters, and 13 or more of the extra small oysters. Eastern oysters or Atlantic oysters are found along the Gulf Coast and up the Atlantic Coast to Cape Cod. They also come in several sizes and may be bought by the pint or quart and also in cans.

"Oysters should be included in meal planning not only because of their flavor but because of the excellent nutritional values they provide," says Phil Roedel, Director, Bureau of Commercial Fisheries, U.S. Department of the Interior. For more information on oysters and how to cook them, send 20 cents to the Superintendent of Documents, U.S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C. 20402, and ask for How To Cook Oysters (I 49.39.3-2).

KEEP ALL FOODS CLEAN

Don't buy torn or damaged packages when shopping. Wrap products correctly for storage — loosely for refrigerator storage and tightly for the freezer. Wash poultry, but not meat, before cooking. Wash your hands often when handling food. Thoroughly sanitize all equipment that has been used for handling raw meat or poultry before using it for handling the cooked product or other foods. Clean your kitchen thoroughly and often, dismantling all equipment that comes apart.

SCALLOPED OYSTERS WITH HAM

2 cans (12 ounces each) Pacific oysters or other oysters, fresh or frozen
2 cups cracker crumbs
½ cup cooked chopped ham
½ cup chopped green pepper
Dash pepper
½ cup butter or margarine
¼ cup sherry
Oyster crackers

Thaw frozen oysters. Drain oysters. Combine crumbs, green pepper, ham, and pepper. Arrange ½ the oysters in a well-greased baking dish, 12 by 8 by 2 inches. dot oysters with ½ the butter and sherry. Cover with ½ the crumb mixture. Repeat layers. Arrange oyster crackers on top. Bake in a very hot oven, 450 degrees F. for 20 to 25 minutes or until lightly brown. Makes six servings.

Stuff Potato For Dieters To Enjoy

"I'm Still Hungry" is the dieters' sad song. Whatever the diet, the lament is the same. It stands to reason that the most effective diets are the ones that cater to your innermost self.

Most people just don't have the stomach for all the steak they can eat, even if they could afford the price. Nor the high carbohydrate diets that satiate for an hour or two. What most people really like to eat are meat, potatoes, vegetables, salads and sweets. Soup to nuts! When you are allowed to eat these foods in a balanced diet cutting calories with smaller portions, you're bound to lose weight. What's more, that's about the only way to keep that weight lost.

This recipe from India for Dum Aloo is one to keep in your diet file. It cuts calories with skill and cunning. There's no doubt that a good baked Idaho potato, though only 93 calories per 3½ ounces, will help to fill you up. When it's stuffed with a good lambhash, it does even more. The hash is a pungent mixture of the potatoes and lean lamb, onions, peppers and tomatoes. No need for butter on the table at all. The recipe makes extra hash to bake outside the shells; only for those who simply must go back for "seconds."

DUN ALOO

6 Idaho potatoes
2 cups lean lamb, cubed
3 tablespoonhs oil
2 cloves garlic, crushed
6 green onions, diced
1 green pepper, chopped
1 lg. tomato, chopped
¼ teaspoon crushed red pepper
1 teaspoon tarragon
salt and pepper
chicken broth

Cut potatoes in half lengthwise and scoop out flesh with a melon baller, leaving shells intact. Dice potatoes and brown with lamb in oil with garlic. Add onions, green pepper, tomato and seasonings; continue cooking for a few minutes. Spoon filling into potato shells using wooden putcher skewers to secure top and bottom shells. Arrange in casserole and bake at 400 degrees F. until potatoes are tender. Add more broth as the mixture dries out. Serve with yogurt and chutney. Makes 6 servings.

Cornbread With Flavor Dividends

Here's cornbread with a flavor dividend. It's subtly flavored with wine. There's no other deviation from the ingredients usually called for to make cornbread.

Dry Sherry, the wine specified, is the least sweet of the Sherries produced in California, but it still retains the characteristic nutlike flavor associated with sweet and medium Sherry. It is this nuttiness that enhances the cornbread sticks without being distinguishable in itself.

The Sherry left in the bottle can be stored safely without refrigeration and used to flavor soups and sauces and as a lightly refreshing before-dinner beverage.

NEW ENGLAND CORNBREAD STICKS
(Makes 14 to 16 sticks)

2-3 cup sifted all-purpose flour
1 1-3 cups uncooked yellow corn meal
1 tablespoon sugar
4 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
1 egg, beaten
¾ cup milk
¼ cup California dry Sherry
3 tablespoons melted butter or margarine

Grease cornstick pans liberally and place in hot oven (425 degrees F.) while preparing batter. Combine flour, corn meal, sugar, baking powder and salt in mixing bowl. Add beaten egg, milk, Sherry and butter to dry ingredients; blend just until moistened. (Do not overbeat.) Fill hot cornstick pans almost full. Return to oven and bake 8 to 12 minutes. Remove from pan and serve hot.

Note: Batter may be baked in well-greased 8x8x2-inch pan. Bake in hot oven (425 degrees F.) 12 to 15 minutes.

THE APPOINTMENT OF GABRIELSON OLDSMOBILE AS YOUR AMERICAN MOTORS FRANCHISED DEALER IN THIS AREA.

American Motors

NOW IN BURLINGAME!

Gabrielson Oldsmobile and American Motors will offer the complete line of American Motors cars and with a trading policy we believe you will appreciate.

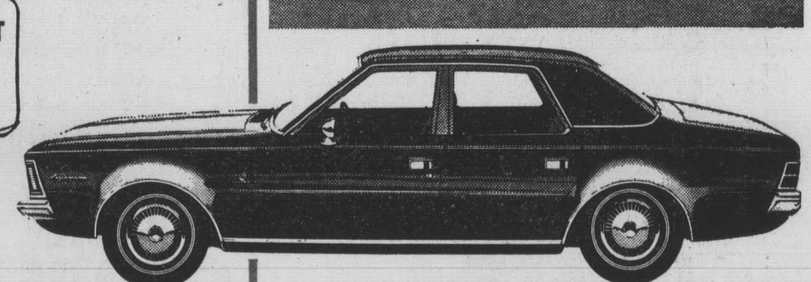
Boasting one of the finest service departments on the Peninsula, Gabrielson Oldsmobile/American Motors can and will provide the type of service which will induce you to call this "Home" when your automobile requires attention.

AMERICAN MOTORS '70 AMX

You may think you have to come up with at least $5000 to buy a real sports car. Not true. Gabrielson Oldsmobile/American Motors offers you a red-blooded two-seater sports car that's classed with Corvette, Porsche 904 and 427 Cobra in SCCA production category competition. Standard equipment includes a 360 CID V-8, power blister hood, 140 MPH speedometer, tach, four-speed with Hurst shifter, mag-style wheels, dual exhausts, E78x14 belted Polyglas tires, HD suspension, high back buckets, and more. You could pay $5500 and more for a real sports car. Or you could get an AMX.



AMERICAN MOTORS '70 HORNET

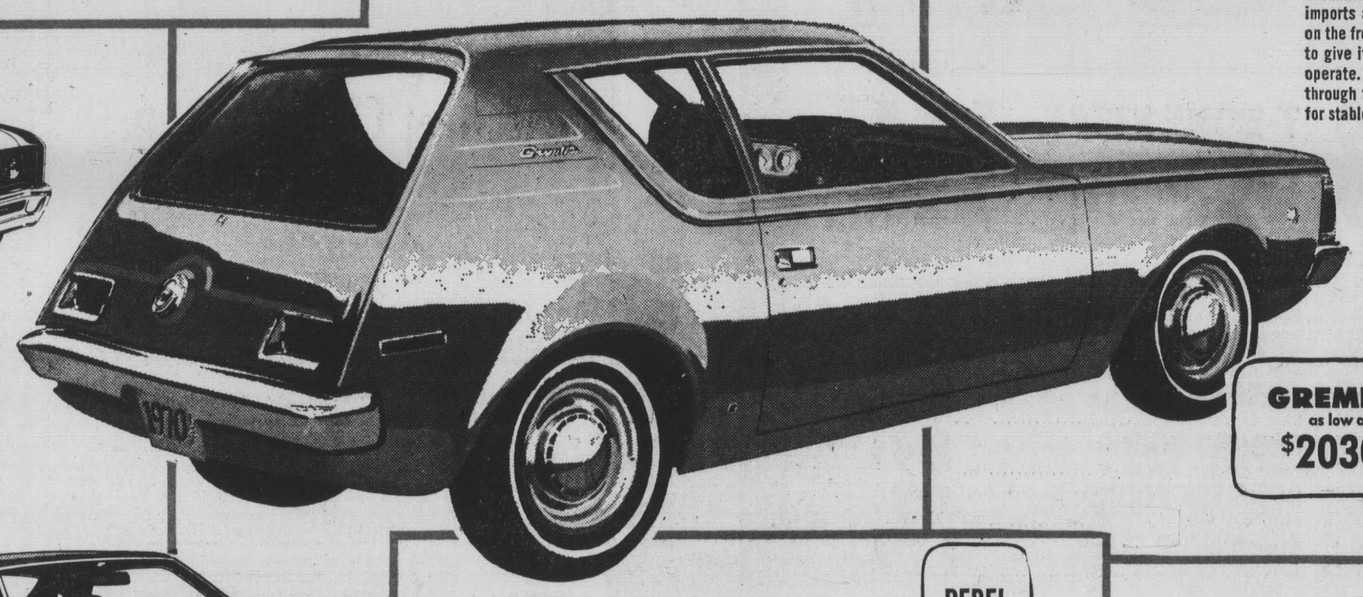
While other compacts are just reduced versions of bigger cars, Hornet is designed to be a compact car. That means the smooth handling, performance, economy, and value are designed in, not added on. We also included a hefty 145 hp six and vinyl upholstery as standard equipment. Add V-8 engine, vinyl roof, Carnaby plaid upholstery, air conditioning and what ever else you want. It just makes your little rich car a greater value.

AMERICAN MOTORS 1970 GREMLIN

Gremlin brings driving fun to the import field. Many economy imports are under-powered, sluggish and difficult to control on the freeway. Not Gremlin. Gremlin has a standard 128 hp six to give it real zip and still get 23 mpg. That makes it fun to operate. It's only 2½ inches longer than VW, so you thread through traffic with ease. And it's nearly 800 pounds heavier for stable freeway driving. Most fun of all is the price.

1970 AMBASSADOR

Ambassador SST four-door has more standard luxury than a comparable Chevy, Ford or Plymouth. Air conditioned for instance. And individual reclining seats. And a 304-V-8 Shift Command automatic transmission. Fiberglas belted tires and wheel discs. All that luxury rides on a long 122-inch wheelbase for easy [illegible] comfort.



AMERICAN MOTORS '70 JAVELIN

Javelin offers the freshest new styling in the pony car field at a price that doesn't take the fun out of it all. The basic Javelin can put you in the pony car league at rocking horse prices. Performance buffs can add options to really make Javelin snarl. And if it's luxury you're really after, there's air conditioning, leather or corduroy upholstery, landau vinyl roof and more.

AMERICAN MOTORS '70 REBEL BASE WAGON

Still the lowest list price of any wagon built in America! This Rebel Wagon gives your wallet a little breathing space without sacrificing interior room. Has a whopping 91.1 cu. ft. of cargo space. Bigger than Fairlane, Chevelle, and Belvedere in 8 out of 10 interior measurements.

*local delivered price. Optional equipment and taxes additional.

Sportscripts

On more than one occasion in past columns we've written of the inevitability of professional track. More than one promoter has threatened it, and more than one critic has said such an enterprise could never get off the ground.

But last week Lee Evans signed a five year professional track contract with World Sports Promotion, Inc., and promoter Al Schallou and his partner, Alan Rothenberg, are deadly serious about the enterprise; serious enough to offer Evans a reported $5,000 base salary and a minimum of $600 per winning event; serious enough to have signed (they claim) 54 other athletes, among whom, supposedly, are Jim Hines, Richmond Flowers Jr., John Thomas, Jay Sylvester, Ullis Williams, Art Walker, Ed Carruthers, Gayle Hopkins, Don Shy; serious enough to have scheduled 24 meets, the first of which will happen in Los Angeles, May 23.

We're pulling for Evans and Schallou and Rothenberg — not because we know or like them or have any vested interest in pro track; but because we'd truly love to see the AAU squirm . . . not die, but breathe hard and beg for oxygen. And when recovered, then start living right.

BOB OATES, a Los Angeles sports columnist writing for the Sporting News recently, has renewed our faith in the possibility of common sense perhaps one day returning to professional football . . . that, and a return to the old jargon, which, if it was good enough for us should be good enough for the Pepsi Generation.

Oates reports that George Allen agrees with Sid Gillman that pro football should "bring back the fullbacks." Both coaches, says Oates, deplore the fact that fullbacks and halfbacks are officially lumped into the category of "running backs."

Gillman says that there is a difference between halfbacks and fullbacks (How do you like THAT for modern thinking!).

Oates adds that it's just as fallacious a thought to lump flankers and split ends into the category of "wide receiver." There's a difference, however slight, there, too, says Oats.

HARVEY POLLACK, press director of the Philadelphia 76ers, has developed a unique and perhaps usable new statistical technique. He has done projections on what statistics were compiled by NBA players per full 48 minute game. That is, what each player did, in effect, for every 48 minutes he played.

Not surprising, for instance, was the fact that Jerry West would still have led the league in scoring. On the 48 minute projection scale, he averaged 35.7 points per game. Also not surprising, Wilt Chamberlain would have been second with a 32.2. What is surprising is that Seattle's Bob Rule would have been third, with a 31.9.

San Francisco's Jerry Mullins would have been 12th with a 29.0. Other Warriors who would have been among the leaders were Dave Gambee (25.3) and Bob Portman (25.0).

Nate Thurmond, who averaged 23.6 as a scorer, would have been the second top rebounder (19.1) behind The Stilt (20.6). Portman and Gambee averaged 12.7 and 11.4 rebounds per 48 mminutes, respectively.

WHILE WE DON'T ADVOCATE using Pollack's system to determine official statistical titles, and realize the kind of distortions it could create, and also the fact that a good deal of a player's value is in how often and how long he can stay on the court, we still feel it could be of some value in determining a player's relative worth.

Although we don't know how else it could be done, we don't think it fair (especially for a player at contract time) to use game averages for final player statistics. As it now stands, a player, for instance, might be averaging 25 points a game, start a game, play 30 seconds, get hurt and have to leave the game without scoring a point. That 30 seconds, in league statistics, counts as a full game, the player goes into the books as scoreless for that game, and his game "average" falls drastically.

You all know by now that the Giants, over the past decade, have compiled the best winning percentage in baseball, but we'll bet you didn't know that in their entire history (that includes, ugh, New York, fans) they stand second only to the Yankees in winning. And don't forget, the Yankees have played 11 fewer years than the giants.

For you statistics nuts, the Giants have a lifetime .553 record, the Yankees, .571. Closest to the Giants is Chicago sota) with a .542. Of the original AL clubs, Cleveland stands (.521), and nearest to the Yanks is the Twins (only in Minnerunner-up to the Pin Stripes with a .524. The Dodgers, incidentally, are third in the NL at .519. Top NL expansion club is Houston (.432).

The Yankees, as you all know, have won the most league titles, 29, while the Giants again stand second in that category with 18. The Cubs and Dodgers have 16, while the closest to the Yanks in the AL is the Athletics with nine. The Tigers and the Red Sox have eight. Again, the Yankees have taken the most World Series (20). Nearest to them is the Cards, with eight. Again, the Giants are second there, tied with the Red Sox and Athletics at five apiece.

Speaking of the Giants, if they don't get at least one more established major league pitcher — preferably a left-handed reliever — fast, it may not take them too long to relinquish their exalted standing behind the Yankees. (Is second place becoming a way of life with the Giants?)

FRANK MAGNANI isn't used to losing, for he's an old jock from way back, and what old jock ever likes to, or gets used to losing.

Magnani played CYO baseball in North Beach with former major leaguer Gino Cimoli and former Seal catcher Nini Torney, played basketball in The Beach for the Salesian Boys' Club, and was a three year varsity cager for Sacred Heart from 1946-48.

Magnani, who you would think must be competitive enough as an attorney, still keeps his competitive edge sharp on the athletic field. He plays in two softball leagues, both, he says, in the lob ball division; for Our Lady of Mercy (they've won two titles in the past three years) and the YMA.

Until three years ago, Frank played in the fast-pitch softball leagues, but, he says, "The reflexes started to go."

When in the Army and while stationed at Fort Lawton in Seattle, Magnani played base softball and made several all-star teams at the battalion level.

He also played service football, but declines to talk of that experience other than to end all conversation on that subject by declaring, "I got the hell knocked out of me."

A USF graduate, Magnani was at the Hilltop at the beginning of the big eras in basketball and football.

"In that competition," he says, "I was strictly an intramural player."

In the field of law and politics, obviously, Magnani has grown out of the intramural class.

Local papers — including, unfortunately, The Post — overlooked it, but one of the more outstanding athletic feats of the young year was performed by Westmoor wrestler Harold Lorber at the San Francisco State College Far Western open tournament last week.

Lorber, 105-pounds, a junior, won both the high school and college division freestyle titles in his weight class by dint of eight straight pins, including one that took only 10 seconds, and only one match of which got past the first round.

Most teen-agers spend busy weekends, but this kid is ridiculous!

N.P.L. ROUNDUP

Terra Nova Hurler Gets No-Hitter

By JERRY LITTRELL
Post Sports Writer

The precision machine, better known as Terra Nova High School's baseball team, just keeps rolling along in methodical fashion towards another North Peninsula League baseball championship and a Central Coast Section berth.

The defending CCS champions made it five in a row on Friday with a narrow 1-0 victory over Stubborn South San Francisco's Warriors as pitcher Bob McClure fired a no-hitter at the host SSF nine.

In other league action, Half Moon Bay kept its title hopes alive with a 2-1 victory over Jefferson; Serramonte rallied for a 7-6 win over Oceana marking the fifth straight one - run loss in league play for the Sharks; and El Camino blasted the stuffings out of Westmoor, 15-4.

McClure, firing strikes right from the start, struck out four and walked four as he kept the Warrirors off balance all afternoon with his singing fastball and sharp - breaking curve. It was the 33rd straight inning in which McClure has not allowed an earned run. He has surrendered just one run all season.

His feat was almost matched by righthander Bruce Collins, who was the loser on a heart - breaking three - hitter. One of the three Tiger hits came in the third inning when TN tallied the winning run. Ernie Manley stroked a clean single to open the inning and stole second. The Warriors then walked Mike Calder, last year's NPL batting champ, intentionally and enduced catcher Mike Rawlings to hit an infield grounder. But the ball was misplayed for an error and Manley scored the winning run.

The only question left now is if there is anyone powerful or lucky enough to catch the Tigers on an off - day. The key factor for Al Figone's crew this year has been the Tigers' consistency — if the pitching slips, the hitting picks up; if the hitting slacks off, as it did yesterday, there's McClure!

Jim Emery's golden arm and the wooden bat of firstbaseman John Ramacciotti spelled the difference yesterday when the Cougars squeezed by the defending co - champion Indians.

Emery struck out 13 Indians but started to show signs of his repeated use by walking six. He pitched a four - hitter and maintained his string of pitching to every batter in NPL play over the past two years.

The Indians scored in the third when junior Smoky Morton singled, went to second on a passed ball and crossed home on thirdbaseman John Mibelli's single.

HMB tied it up in the bottom of the third when Emery singled sharply and scored on Ramaciotti long double, then, with two out in the bottom of the sixth, Ramaciotti powered a Frank Edleman fastball out of sight for a solo home run and the victory.

Oceana coach Harry Vaplon must be going slowly insane along with his Shark charges. The Sharks got four runs in the first inning without getting one hit (four Serramonte errors, a walk and a hit batter did the trick) but couldn't hold the lead for the fifth NPL loss and the first win for the novice Regents.

Serramonte scored four times itself in the fifth inning to provide the winning margin as Don Theuner singled, Rick Newman and Ron Beltramo hit back - to - back doubles and, after two walks to load the bags, Gary Troexler walked in what proved to be the needed run.

Thuener pitched well but got little support from his fielders who committed six errors to keep him constantly in hot-water. Oceana got just three hits for those six runs but could provide little offensive power outside the stick - work of left-fielder Miles Mintle.

El Camino went on a hitting binge seldom seen in any prep circles pounding the round - ball for 17 hits and 15 runs. Righthander Pete Alexander became the first Colt pitcher to finish what he started as he threw a six-hitter and entered the last inning with a 15-0 lead.

Dave Bias, who hit a two-run homer in the first, Tom Buckley, who was three - for - three, and catcher Darrel Lauer, who had two hits and three RBI's, were the main batting stars for the Colts who moved into a third - place tie with South SF.

Westmoor played its poorest game in recent history with six physical and a baker's dozen mental errors which finally drove starter Dave Riley, who deserved better, to the showers.

See Page 30 for Littrell's story on the Terra Nova advance into first place in the NPL.

Mustangs Grab Share Of First

Perennial MPL baseball power Capuchino moved into a tie with idle Aragon on Friday, courtesy of Bob Milano's Burlingame Panthers, and Milano allowed that he was a little tired of seeing green and gold.

The Mustangs, behind the tight pitching of Keith Hernandez and a nine-hit barrage, blanked the Panthers 2-0 at Burlingame.

The winning run came in the top of the second when "Scoop" Wynkoop walked with the bases loaded, forcing Steve Armanino home.

"I knew Cap had good pitching with Hernandez," Milano said. "I wasn't too sure about their hitting, but I know now. I've seen some of those kids, like (Dave) Adornetto for three years, and I'm getting a little tired of it.

"Hernandez was great. We only got three hits. Two of them had eyes and one was solid and their shortstop, Terry Ruggles, played a heck of a game."

Cap, now 2-0, moved into a first place tie with Aragon. The Dons drew a bye on the league schedule.

It was the first loss for Burlingame. The Panthers, now 2-1, dropped from first place to third.

Crestmoor moved into a third place tie with Burlingame by edging visiting San Mateo 3-2.

The Falcons overcame a 2-0 deficit in the bottom of the fourth inning with two down. Tony Barbarotto reached base on an error, Bob Forsythe walked, and Rick Catalano doubled them home. Jim Beck followed with a single to send Catalano home.

'Cat pitcher Joe Serena had to strike out four Falcons in that inning — he lost one to a passed ball. It was the second game in a row that solid pitching had gone for naught.

Falcon hurler Ken Bowman gave up four hits, walked no one and struck out four.

Hillsdale crawled out of the loop cellar by downing Mills 7-5 in eight innings at Mills.

Brad Metheany put the Knights out in front in the top of the second with a bases-loaded triple. The Knights added another run in the seventh, but Mills tied the game in the bottom of the inning.

But the Knights stormed back in the top of the eighth. Bob King, Pete Kaine and Dan Nerby singled to load the bases. Kevin Morford walked to force in a run, and Metheany walked, pushing in the final score.

Aragon stayed sharp by beating Poly of San Francisco 4-1 at Aragon. Ace Don pitcher Dan Dela Cruz went six innings, giving up just three hits and striking out six.

North Peninsula League Dual Meet Championship

When the South San Francisco High School mermen host Terra Nova this Thursday, it will be for the NPL dual meet championship.

Warrior Coach Cliff Sansot was mildly disappointed with his charges' 58-36 nonleague victory over visiting Lowell yesterday afternoon, but said "We'll certainly be ready to go Thursday.

"The times today weren't as good as I'd like to see. Terra Nova is a good tough squad, and that meet should be real close."

Kent Bishop, Bob Bowen and John Holzworth teamed for most of the Warriors points in yesterday's meet. Jeff Johansen, the top all-around Warrior merman, missed Thursday's meet.

MISS BOWL 'EM OVER — Kathy Lanza, a blonde beauty who measures 34-23 35 on a five - foot, two - inch stem really bowls 'em over and has been selected by the San Francisco Bowling Proprietors Association as the Learn to Bowl Week queen.

Learn To Bowl

DC Beauty, Pro Lead Activities

Special to the Post

Touring pros and a local beauty queen will highlight Learn to Bowl Week activities at Westlake Bowl and Serra Bowl starting Monday.

The beauty is blonde Daly City beautician Kathy Lanza, who was named Miss Bowl 'Em Over recently by the San Francisco Bowling Proprietors Association.

Miss Lanza, a seven - year bowling veteran who measures 34-23-35, will be giving instructions to new bowlers during classes on Monday through Wednesday at 11 a.m., noon, 1 p.m. and 2 p.m. at Johnny Swanson's Westlake Bowl.

Professionals slated to participate include Les Barrett, the San Mateo bowler who is one of only five teaching pros in the 11 Western states Barrett, a veteran of the PBA trails, is lsated to assist in one of the classes on Wednesday.

Serra Bowl's Don Hooper will be at the Colma establishment throughout the week which includes classes on Saturday and Sunday.

In addition, Dave Soutar of Gilroy, a tour veteran and winner of a recent PBA event, is tentatively scheduled to visit Serra Bowl early in the week, according to Brunswick Corp., officials.

Anyone who would like to attend Learn to Bowl Week festivities is invited to contact the control desk at either Serra Bowl or Westlake Bowl. In addition, eight other San Francisco bowling centers are participating.

Westlake Bowl hosted the U.S. Navy's pride, some 150 bowlers competing for three days in the 12th Naval District Championships last week. The military stars were welcomed by Daly City Mayor Bud Lycett.

Fresno's Max Burke averaged 221 to completely run away with the tournament with Howard Broadaway and Joe McCue tallying 208 averages for second and third place.

A Marine captain, Jolene Johnson of San Francisco, won the distaff honors with a 169 average.

Topping tournament play was Mike Wielgus, who split the pins for a sizzling 704 series and received bonus pins for an 800 total during the early action the Serra Bowl's Pick Your Pro handicap singles event.

The fun tournament with a big payoff is running through May 22 and the winner will be ddcided by first round scores in the National All - Star tourney in Chicago. Each local competitor picks one of 12 pros competing in the All - Star and there combined score determines the victor.

Next Wednesday kicks off the Wheel of Fortune bowling at Serra Bowl starting at 1 p.m. with surprizes and prizes given at random to competitors.

Topping scores at the Colma lanes was a 663 series and 226 high game by Reno Tuccori who started a string of marks from the fifth frame of the first game and swept through the next two games.

Bev Cronin strung together six strikes in a row to score 231 and take home 2,250 Blue Chip stamps in competition.

Lou Cambou shot a sizzling 256 game to score the high for the Druids League this year at Westlake and Geneva Excelsior captured the Lions Club League crown.

Terra Nova Takes Over

Tigers Accept The Pressure

By JERRY LITTRELL
Post Sports Writer

Terra Nova High School's Tigers, like marked men in the old West, keep facing the toughest pitching around but to date the Tigers haven't wilted under the pressures of the North Peninsula League race.

Now in sole possession of first place after a thrilling 5-2 victory over Half Moon Bay and Jim emery April 7, Al Figone's charges must now take on one more deadly challenger Friday afternoon in South San Francisco's Warriors led by fireballing Bruce Collins.

In other NPL action that day, El Camino edged Oceana, 5-4, marking the fourth straight game the Sharks have lost by only one run; South San Francisco blanked Serramonte, 2-0, and Jefferson started on the long road back by downing Westmoor, 6-1.

Bob McClure, TN's senior left-hander, did most of the damage against the Cougars. The tricky southpaw pitched a four-hitter, striking out 11 and walking just two. He also hit a solo home run off his opponent, Emery, in the third to tie the score at 1-1.

Emery had an off day, striking out just seven but he was facing one of the better hitting clubs around.

A suicide squeeze in the fourth by Mike Humphrey drove in Mike Rawlings with the go-ahead run that put TN ahead to stay. Then McClure walked ahead of Mike Calder in the fifth and the Tiger centerfielder, who batted .500 last season, blasted a two-run homer to center. Bud Papadakis stole home in the sixth for the final Tiger tally.

South City's Pete Enea fired a two-hitter and retired the last 17 batters he faced to lead the Warriors into a second-place tie. Enea, who has allowed one run in 19 innings, struck out five.

Shortstop Dave Guttierrez hit a solo homer at Orange to give SSF its first run and Rich Crumpton scored on Dave Ballestrasse's single in the sixth to ice the victory.

Dale Conway was a one-man show for Jefferson. The senior right-hander pitched a six-hitter, got two hits himself, had five assists, stole two bases and had a walk to pace the Indians. Tony Moss had a triple for the winners while Frank Edleman also accounted for two hits.

A power-hitting display still wasn't quite enough for Oceana. Trailing 5-2 going into the last of the seventh, the Sharks rallied for two runs but left the tying run on the bases to drop to 0-4. Camino's Pete Alexander picked up the save for Gary Shingleton.

Oceana scored in the fifth on Curt Lupo's two-run homer and again in the seventh on Steve Pointer's two-run blast.

Camino scored first when Tom Buckley singled and Darrell Lauer homered in the third. A single by Gary Sartain and two Shark errors gave Camino another tally in the fourth before two walks, a sacrifice and two stolen bases led to two seventh inning runs.

Mills Tennis Team Keeps Rolling Along

Mills kept rolling along at the top of the MPL tennis heap Thursday, gradually succeeding in its attempt to put the title out of reach of perennial winner Burlingame.

The Vikings coasted past Crestmoor 7-0 on the Mills courts to run their MPL mark to 5-0.

Number two singles man Eric Swartz led the Vikes with a 6-0, 6-0 win over the Falcons' Harry Rapa. Swartz remains unbeaten in league matches for the season.

Mills had vaulted into first place previously after stunning perennial MPL champ Burlingame. Burlingame has a slim chance to recoup the loss later this season.

But because the championship is figured on a cumulative-points basis during the season, Mills could put the crown out of the Panthers' grasp before the rematch.

And in another MPL match that day, San Mateo downed host Capuchino 5-2, dropping the Mustangs to 2-3 in conference ction.

Sailing Class Set For D.C. Youth

The Daly City Recreation, Parks and Maintenance Department is offering a course in Basic Sailing.

This is a two-week course that is being conducted with the cooperation of the American Red Cross and San Francisco State College.

Any youth between the ages of 12-19 years interested in obtaining a Basic Red Cross Sailing Card for beginning sailing should register by May 1 at the Daly City Recreation Department Office located at 134 Hillside Boulevard.

Class size will be limited to 45. There is no fee for this class.

Special requirement: Those enrolled in this class will have to pass a swimming test which requires that they stay afloat for 10 minutes with clothes on.

Instruction will be held on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday from 4:30 p.m. to 7:30 p.m., beginning May 12 and running through May 21, at the Lake Merced Boat Dock.

Registrants must provide own transportation.

For further information contact John M. Cannon, Recreation Supervisor.

KQED To Televise Bruno's Little League Champ Game

The San Bruno Little League Baseball Championship game at City Park on July 25 will be televised live over KQED. The announcer will be Bud Foster and the color man for the game will be Les Kelting.

As part of a program to teach youngster television broadcasting, students from Ben Franklin Junior High School in San Francisco will serve as the TV crew, under the supervision of members of the broadcast unions: NABET, AFTRA, IBEW, DGA.

The union members involved, all working professionals at Bay Area stations, supervise this course on their own time without pay. The game coverage is provided over KQED as a public service of the broadcast unions.

The San Bruno Midget Little League Championship game will not only be covered live but re-played at a later time on video-tape.

The Neutral Corner

By JERRY LITTRELL

NEGATIVE SPORTS STORIES, especially on the high school level, don't make for the happiest of tales. Witness for example the plight of two particular baseball teams this 1970 season — one from the North Peninsula League, the other from the South Peninsula League.

Starting up North we have the unusual case of Oceana High School, an institution that has never won a major sports championship in the history of the league but this year sports one of the strangest records of any baseball team around.

The Sharks were not counted on to win the NPL title. They have lived up to that expectation in weird style, however. Oceana has played six NPL games and has an 0-6 record. Not too glamorous, eh? Well, the Sharks have losth every game by one run. We know. Close counts in nothing but horseshoes and hand grenades. Still, one has to feel a certain amount of pity for coach Harry Vaplon and the team.

They have lost by one run in every possible manner. They have blown big leads in late innings. They have rallied to within one run in the last inning. They have received excellent pitching and hitting, unfortunately, not on the same days. They are cursed with playing in the best baseball league in the section this year.

"It makes you want to scream at times," said Vaplon after his fourth straight minimum-run loss. We wonder what he is saying now? That string should end today. By the time you read this the Sharks will have played Terra Nova, the top NPL team, and may have loss No. 7 by more than one run but it was unusual while it lasted.

Down South we have the strange situation of San Carlos High School. The Dons were expected to challenge for the SPAL title but currently find themselves mired in the conference's second division. All the negative aspects came after San Carlos had to forfeit two early season wins because of an ineligible player on the roster. Since then, when SC was 7-0, the Dons have a 1-3 record and are just about out of competition.

"The forfeits came just before the Sequoia game and we were certainly mentally down for that one," admitted SC coach Pete Cocconi. "Then after Easter we are beaten by Woodside before bombing Gunn, 13-1, but then we come back Friday and lose to Carlmont."

It was the first time the Dons had been shut out this year. They also committed six errors for the most in one game this year. Did the forfeits have that big an effect on the team?

"The forfeits did take the starch out of us, no doubt," Cocconi admitted. "We have the talent to be a winner. It's a shame we couldn't have put it together this year. I don't think the team has given up but a little bit has fallen off in every department — hitting, fielding and pitching. We're just going to try and knock off the top teams the rest of the way now. It's really strange how the year has turned around."

ANOTHER VARSITY COACH has apparently decided to call it quits for now but — a la Nate Thurmond — the door for re-entry has been left ajar. Crestmoor's Ralph Daniels, varsity basketball coach for just one year, has indicated that he would like to be released from that chore in 1971.

"This doesn't mean that he won't be coaching, however," noted Crestmoor principal George Kritovich. "Everything depends upon our fall enrollment figures of incoming freshmen. If we have enough to warrant the hiring of an outside person then we will try to fill the vacancy with a suitable coach. If enrollment is down, though, Ralph may be back for one more year as head coach."

Returning to the fold next year is John Cristgau, wandering soul that he is, who has taken the past year off to sojourn through Europe. The last we heard he was leading the free world in scoring in some Italian basketball league. "Old cagers never die. . . ."

Christgau will be back on the faculty but will be the sole possession of the English department and the Wall Street Journal listings. A decision on the new coach, or old one, could be coming this week.

STILL ANOTHER RESIGNATION was submitted recently when El Camino High School athletic director Owen Kashevaroff, formerly North Peninsula League commissioner, sent in his letter to the Camino front office.

Kashevaroff is stepping down from his athletic directorship effective after this semester. He has been the Camino head man for the past four years. No official announcement has been forthcoming but it is fairly certain his successor will be head football coach Tom McCormick.

Crestmoor Falls, Too

Hillsdale Downs Cap

By RON REID
Post Sports Writer

On a day more windy than a convention of southern governors and colder than a loan shark's heart, Burlingame High School took its cue from the elements and breezed through its toughest assignment of the year. Equally cool Hillsdale kept pace with muscle while the Mills Vikings intriguingly began rising from the dead.

As of Thursday afternoon, which set some sort of dreary record for wind-aided wind, that was the latest lusty chapter in the scintillating saga of the Mid Peninsula League dual meet track season, a weekly drama building toward a socko finish.

Burlingame's tenacious Panthers, who must now be favored for the title they shared a year ago, overwhelmed Crestmoor, the pre-season choice, in a 76-55 showdown that was supposed to be closer.

Hillsdale took every field event first place en route to a 92-44 dismantling of Capuchino while Mills, hopefully moving toward improved health, stunned Aragon, 91-45, for its first triumph of the MPL season.

Thus the Panthers, whose depth looks more ominous every Thursday, sit atop the league standings with a 3-0 record that is unlikely to be blemished by defeat until April 30, if indeed, the Panthers lose at all. It is on that critical date that Burlingame does battle with Hillsdale, a worthy foe that now owns a 2-0 league record, is 4-0 overall, and reigns as the San Mateo City Champion as well. For either contender, the assignment won't be easy.

Crestmoor, unbeaten before the Panthers' invasion of San Bruno, got some quality performances in the big match-up, but the visitors' overall strength was too much to handle.

Burlingame took eight of the 13 first places available after both teams blew the 440 relay with bad passing, picked up 27 more points with nine second places, and grabbed the same number of thirds.

Aided by constant wind, both teams turned in some remarkable times, chief of which was a 9.6 clocking for Crestmoor's Chuck Bommarito in the 100-yard dash. The MPL's leading sprinter also won the 220 in 21.5 and finished second in the discus.

Burlingame's Brett Johnson won the high hurdles in 15.0 while the Falcons' Steve Bule long-jumped 21-1½. Other good work by the Panthers included a 51.4 quarter mile by Tom Creighton, a 40-4 triple jump by Gary Hafley, and Jack Moyer's 20.1 low hurdle flight.

Crestmoor took some cause for cheer from Steve Trueman, who vaulted 13 feet to beat Burlingame's Rick Bruni. The Falcons also got a double in the weights from Don Pheil, a 3:30.1 clocking in the mile relay, and the Class B meet, 77-59, for their best impetus yet toward the league title in that division.

Another favored pole vaulter bit the dust at Capuchino, where Hillsdale's Sky Webb lived up to his name by sailing 13 feet to beat Cap's Steve Biaochhi, who has a 14-6 best mark this year. Webb also won the high jump while Steve Ralston got off a 157-foot discus throw and Phil Florea topped the shot put entrants with a 50-2 toss.

Mills' initial league victory was sparked by the return of Marc Shea, the league's leading shotput virtuoso until he suffered a sprained ankle during warmups in the MPL Relays. Shea, using no effort more strenuous than a standing throw, won his event at 52-10¼, which should improve as he becomes more mobile in the ring. The shotput provided the best head-to-head quality competition of the meet as Aragon's Steve Boschetti finished second with an impressive throw of 52-5½.

Tom Karlo won both hurdles and the long jump for the Vikings while teammates Bill Kahn and Wayne Miller respectively won the high jump and mile run with marks of 6-0 and 4:37.4.

Aragon's Dennis Sheehan clocked a 9:56.8 two mile and Boschetti took the discus at 143-3 for the Dons' sole first places.

S.S.F. GRAD

Army Staff Sergeant Wayne A. Morris (right)n son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Morris, 2430 Donegal Dr., South San Francisco, was promoted to Army staff sergeant, while serving at the U.S. Army Missile and Munitions Center and School, Redstone Arsenal, Ala.

S. Sgt. Morris, an instructor in Company D, School Brigade, entered the Army in November 1965 and completed basic training at Ft. Ord, Calif.

The 22-year-old soldier is a 1965 graduate of South San Francisco High School.

ACCIDENTAL

A Daly City man accidentally shot himself in the right knee while cleaning a .25-caliber pistol Saturday.

Marty Lee Walker, 31, of 216 Rio Verde, told police he was cleaning the weapon about 9:40 p.m. when it discharged.

At Our Churches

Instruction Class Planned For Adults; Yearly Meet

Pastor Bill G. Willms of Our Redeemer's Lutheran Church of South San Francisco announces the beginning of a six-week instruction class for adults who wish to receive information regarding the teachings of the Lutheran Church April 19. The class will utilize filmstrips to guide the discussions.

Our Redeemer's Lutheran Church is located at El Camino Real at Southwood Drive. Worship services are at 8:30 and 11 a.m. each Sunday, with Sunday school at 9:45.

The Westside Baptist Church, 390 Inverness Drive in Pacifica, will hold its annual business meeting at 6:30 p.m. Thursday.

The evening will begin with a potluck dinner, and conclude with the election of officers and adoption of the budget for 1970-1971. This meeting was originally set for April 9, but was cancelled.

"It May Be Today" will be the sermon topic for the 11 a.m. worship hour message. Special music will be provided by the adult choir, with Mrs. Hazel Leong accompanying at the organ. Newly elected deacons will meet at 6 p.m. Sunday with the Deacon Board for a reorganization meeting in the pastor's study.

"Christ in You" is the topic chosen by Pastor A. David Donnelly for the 7 p.m. family fellowship gospel hour message. This service is characterized by lively and spirited congregational singing, special music, and a time for testimonies.

The Watchtower Bible and Tract Society announced that it will sponsor a three-day Bible conference for Jehovah's Witnesses in San Mateo, May 8-10. Larry Garabedian, presiding minister of the Daly City Congregation, said that 17 congregations from San Francisco and the Peninsula will attend.

Garabedian said, "Assemblies of this type are held semi-annually with the purpose of training Jehovah's Witnesses in their ministry as well as provide instruction on applying Bible principles in daily life."

REPAIR CLASS

RANTOUL, Ill. — Airman David C. Lundburg, son of Mrs. Wilma M. Lundburg of San Jose, has graduated at Chanute AFB, Ill., from the U.S. Air Force aircraft equipment repairman course.

The airman, who was trained to repair generators, gas turbines, hydraulic test equipment, is being assigned to Beale AFB, Calif., for duty with the Strategic Air Command.

Miss Teen Lunch Set

The Crystal Springs Junior Women's Club is sponsoring a luncheon to honor their candidate for Miss Teen-age Citizens, Miss Catherine McNinch, on April 18 at Lutheran Church of the Resurrection on Glenview Drive, San Bruno.

Miss McNinch is a national scholastic semi-finalist who became the winner in the Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow Contest for her school and is president of the "Mathletes," school math club.

Her report has been submitted to Pacifica District for judging by CSJWC president, Mrs. James Cruson. The winner will be announced at Pacifica Convention, May 2, in San Jose.

Tickets may be obtained from Club members or the event chairman, Mrs. Gordon Nelson. A children's fashion show will also be presented that afternoon featuring styles from Chapman's

Refreshments chairman for the event is Mrs. John Perotti, coordinator from the San Bruno Women's City Club.

D.C. Youth Wins College Scholarship

Glenn E. Aguiar, 10 Bepler Street, Daly City, has received a four-year college tuition scholarship under the American Can Company Foundation grants.

A senior at Riordan High School in San Francisco, Glenn, 17, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward P. Aguiar. His father has been employed at American Can's Pacific plant, Third and Twentieth Streets, for 20 years.

John G. Griffin, plant manager, presented Glenn's certificate of the award, one of 14 such scholarships offered yearly by the American Can Company Foundation.

Glenn became eligible for the scholarship as the son of an American Can Company employe. Chosen from the more than 425 students who applied this year, he tentatively plans to enter Stanford University.

At Riordan High School, Glenn is a life member of the California Scholarship Federation, Chevaliers Club, Riordan Library Staff and Intramurals.

John F. McGoldrick, scholarship program administrator, said, "The number and quality of applicants has increased markedly in the past few years. The students not only have higher grades, but they seem to have better reasons for wanting to go to college. As a result, the competition this year was keener than at any previous time."

The American Can Company Foundation is a non-profit organization that contributes to educational, charitable and scientific causes. A total of 15 full tuition scholarships has been announced at 12 different company locations. Scholarships also provide a payment of $500 to any private school in which a scholarship student is enrolled.

The 425 applicants for the scholarship this year were screened by a board of prominent educators. In selecting the winners, the board takes into account not only college entrance examination scores, but class standing, school activities and the recommendation of high school officials.

The program, which applies to children of employes and to young employes of American Can Company and its subsidiaries in the United States, Canada and Puerto Rico, has awarded almost 200 scholarships to students who have matriculated in colleges of their choice throughout the United States and Canada.

D.C. Mayor's Declaration

Daly City Mayor Bernard (Bud) Lycett has proclaimed the month of May as "Senior Citizens Month" in the city and commended the city's senior citizens for their contributions to the betterment of the community.

In his proclamation, Mayor Lycett said:

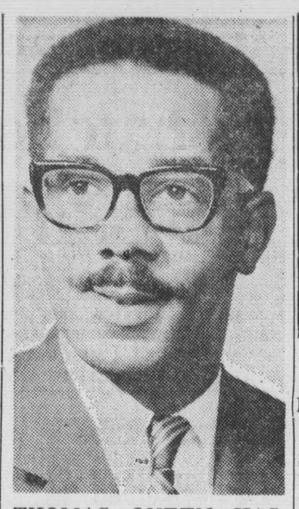
The Senior Citizens of the City of Daly City have taken an active part in the activities of the community and have formed and entered into groups, clubs, organizations and social activities, and have disseminated information to assist Senior Citizens and other groups.

Their efforts have brought about the passage of many laws considered to be enlightened legislation; and the month of May has been designated as "Senior Citizens' Month."

CORA M. PAGNI

Requiem mass was offered at 11 a.m. Friday from the All Souls Church, South San Francisco, for Cora M. Pagni, 53, 553 Poplar, South San Francisco, who died Wednesday in South San Francisco after a long illness.

She is survived by her husband, Raymond; a daughter, Mrs. Therese Bunce of Fremont; a brother, Vincent Fabris of South San Francisco; a sister, Hazel Watson of Santa Rosa; her mother, Hazel Fabris of South San Francisco; and a grandchild.



THOMAS QUEEN HAS been promoted to manager of Bank of America's Parnassus Heights Branch in San Francisco. Manager of the Haight-Fillmore Branch since November, 1968, Queen replaces Ronald R. Raddatz, who has been transferred to Washington, D.C. He and wife Betti reside at 25 Poncetta Drive, Daly City.

Check Is Handed Over

Doug Wigton, PG&E representative in South San Francisco, on April 6 handed City Clerk Arthur Rodondi a check for $53,153.36.

Rodondi calmly stood up and handed Wigton a receipt, then felt obliged to explain that he was notified before the council meeting that the check presentation would be made.

The check, incidentally, covers 1969 franchise tax payments by the utility to operate in the city. The electrical portion was up 5.7 per cent from 1968, amounting to $23,996.44.

Construction Is Recorded In Pacifica

The value of construction in Pacifica from July 1, 1969 to March 31 of this year has been set at $2,840,791, according to Philip W. Mayo, Pacifica's chief building official.

Mayo contrasted this figure with the July 1, 1968-March 31, 1969 total of $4,766,270 when he released the March 1970 building division report this week.

Last month, Mayo said, the building office issued 59 building permits, nine heating permits, 19 plumbing permits and 29 electric permits, in addition to collecting fees for a plan check, and selling code books and maps.

BETTER BUSINESS

By LORENE BEASLEY
Better Business Bureau

The Interstate Commerce Commission has adopted a comprehensive new series of rules scheduled to become effective May 1, in time for the peak of the moving season.

Allied Van figures show that approximately 20 per cent of the people in the United States change addresses in a year. For many of these people moving has been a frustrating and disappointing experience. The commission, emphasizing that it was not pointing a finger to any one household carrier stated that "the average householder, shipping his most valued possessions, is not experienced with transportation practices; is not knowledgeable in protecting his rights; is at a disadvantage in his dealings with the carrier, particularly if he is in transit during the move."

The new rules require movers to adhere to promises of pickup and delivery dates. The purpose of defining and requiring reasonable dispatch is to urge the carrier and the shipper to disclose fully their respective problems in order to reach a mutual understanding and to agree on dates or periods of time within which the transportation service is required to be performed.

An ethical carrier will consider all the relevant factors involved in a shipment and will fully disclose these during the booking of a shipment. The shipper has a similar obligation to make a full disclosure to the carrier of all the pertinent facts relating to his particular transportation requirements.

The shipper must be notified with an explanation of any delay in pickup or delivery. The carrier is prohibited from giving false or misleading information as to the reasons for the delay.

The carrier must inform the shipper on a standard estimating form not only the amount of the estimated cost of his move but also of the maximum amount of money on a C.O.D. shipment that the customer must have in order to require the carrier to unload his shipment. The maximum amount the shipper will have to pay is the estimated cost plus 10 per cent.
